

DEMAND OF MINERS IS SUBMITTED TO COAL OPERATORS

Granting of Increase Means Increase in Price of Coal

UNION OFFICIALS REFUSE TO COMMENT

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 14.—Representatives of the miners of the joint state committee of miners and operators of the central competitive bituminous coal field, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Western Pennsylvania, at a joint conference tonight, submitted to the operators a demand for a supplemental contract calling for a wage increase of $2 per day to all day and monthly laborers and an increase of ten cents per ton on both pick and machine mining, both retroactive to August 1.

The miners' proposal, as presented to the operators follows: "Pursuant to the call of the president of the United States that a joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive field meet to correct inequalities in the award of the bituminous commission we submit the following:

"(1)—That the rate of pay of all day and monthly men be advanced $2 per day.
"(2)—That the minimum scale in the basing districts within the central competitive fields, both pick and machine, be increased ten cents per ton and that differentials, both within and between districts, be referred to the different districts affected.
"(3)—That the price of explosives be referred to the different districts.
"(4)—That no fines be assessed until it is first determined by the official representatives of both parties to the agreement that a violation of contract has occurred.
"(5)—That the increase to day men, monthly men and on mining prices, both pick and machine, herein proposed be made retroactive to August 1st.

The operators refused to comment tonight on what action they would take on the miners' proposition. They will meet tomorrow morning to discuss the meeting and said they would probably have a reply ready by Monday.

No estimate would be made by the operators of the probable increase in the price of coal in case the demand was granted.

E. C. Searles, president of the Illinois Operators' association, however, said if it was granted there would be a "substantial" increase in the price of coal.

Ellis Searles, of Indianapolis, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, said there would be no strike of miners in case the operators refuse the wage increase.

Officials of the miners' union would not comment on their demands.

About 27 per cent of the men employed in the central field mines are day workers receiving $6 a day, one dollar of which was the increase awarded by President Wilson's coal commission last spring. Tonnage pay on run of mine for pick miners in Ohio sub-districts is $1.10 and a fraction of which 24 cents was the increase granted by the commission.

Apply Only to Central Fields

The demands, if granted, would apply directly only to the districts in the central competitive bituminous field, but since all contracts thru the country are based upon the rate paid in the central fields, the demands presented here today affect the coal industry throughout this country and Canada.

District presidents from outlying sections took part in drawing up the miners' demands today but did not attend the joint conferences. As presented the demands constitute the minimum suggestions brought here by district representatives they embody in the main the demands the Illinois strikers made three weeks ago, such as the $2 a day increase for the day men, a raise for the tonnage men and abolition of the automatic penalty clause for unauthorized striking. Several operators said they believed the miners presented tonight's demands as an asking price and would expect to bargain over them. The miners are seeking what they call a supplemental contract not to take the place of the present contract which has until March 31, 1922, still to run.

State Bank Commissioner Issues Statement Saturday

ALLEGED POLICE ARE IMPLICATED

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—Assurance that no further bank closings are likely as a result of the collapse of the financial dealings of Charles Ponzi was given tonight by Joseph C. Allen, state bank commissioner.

PEACE DELEGATES LEAVE WARSAW TO MEET BOLSHEVISTS

Take Baggage in Addition to Records and Reference Books

NEWSPAPER MEN ACCOMPANY PARTY

WARSAW, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—The Polish peace delegates who are to meet Bolshevik representatives to discuss an armistice and peace left at dawn this morning for Minsk, where the conference is to be held.

The automobile carrying the delegates left here just at daybreak. They are scheduled to leave the frontier east of Siedlce before 7 o'clock when they will meet Bolshevik officers who will conduct them to Minsk.

Considerable baggage was taken by the delegates in addition to the records and reference books. Packages of food, enough for an extended stay if necessary, were also carried.

General Listowsky heads the military experts while among the die members of the party is Stanislas Grabski, the national Democratic leader and Norbert Barlicki, Socialist leader.

M. Dombitiski who heads the delegation is one of the peasant leaders.

The party left Warsaw led by three Polish officers in an army automobile which saw service in France. Three new staffs around which were wrapped white flags could be seen beside the chauffeur of this car. On the hood of the automobile was perched a teddy bear.

A correspondent of The Associated Press and another correspondent accompanied the party.

BOLSHEVIK FRONT DRAWING NEAR

Warsaw, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—The front is being gradually brought nearer Warsaw. Before Saturday's dawn artillery flashes were visible against the clouds to the north and northeast and at times the bark of cannon could be heard.

Today's communique concedes that the Poles withdrew further in the center asserting it was for regrouping soldiers who have fallen back upon defense lines less than nineteen kilometers out.

But even more serious according to observers is the situation northwest of Warsaw where Red cavalrymen are making rapid progress toward the Vistula.

The cavalry's right flank, which follows the right wing of the Russian frontier, has been reinforced by Red infantry soldiers who have requisitioned the peasant's horses and are following closely upon the heels of the cavalry.

The Poles say there is no chance of the Bolsheviks crossing the Vistula either below or above Warsaw, as the Russians have been doing habitually for two hundred years in taking Warsaw from the west and that all preparations in these sections have been taken. It is estimated it will require several days before the Reds from the northwest reach the river. Meantime, the newspapers continue confident that a counter stroke will bring results. The Reds, however, are making a steady progress daily at various points particularly directly in front of the city and on the northwest.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—By The Associated Press).—Three kids, just out of a swimming hole in Rock Creek Park, were picked up today by President Wilson, treated to a 45-minute motor ride and dropped out at their home in town so proud the folks there could not hold them with a rope.

The trio had just come from a dip in one of the park's streams and were hanging along the roadway when they saw the white house car and recognized the president. Off came their caps and as Mr. Wilson ordered the car stopped they timidly approached and asked how he was getting along.

"Hop in," said the president, and they hopped. All along the side they kept their eyes on the President and Mrs. Wilson answered more questions than they asked.

Water from towled heads trickled over three sunburnt faces and dripped on the president's shoes. One youngster ducked to save the president's shine and apologized, but was told not to worry.

Coming down Connecticut avenue, the youngest of the trio, a thin, frail lad, barely eight years old, spied a kid, he knew and called to him by name. The youngster in the street dropped a loaf of bread and gasped.

When the kids got out all three shook hands with the president and his wife.

"Son long, bo," one shouted to the secret service man on the front seat. The president smiled broadly, lifted his hat, and started home.

He stormed the Republican position attacked the "senatorial oligarchy," which he said, was trying to add the presidency to its domination, denounced proposals for a separate peace with Germany as "perfidy" and charged that a few men were banded together trying to "buy the presidency."

Says Millions Being Spent.

Millions upon millions of dollars, he added, are being taken to the Republican campaign fund. That Senator Harding is surrounded by a senatorial "ring" was asserted by Governor Cox during a fling at the Harding front porch campaign that he could not be "kept muzzled" on his front porch by any ring.

It was the first big day of campaigning. Motoring from Columbus he made three brief addresses enroute at Zanesville, Cambridge and St. Clairsville, Ohio, addressed the W. Virginia Democratic convention late today and a public meeting tonight on the river front.

The league was foremost in all of the governor's addresses. The Republican leaders, he charged are behind a smoke screen of hypocrisy—for one thing pure and simple, administration spoils. U. S. IS MAKING FORMAL INQUIRY OF GEN. WRANGL

Identified Prominently With Military Campaigns

TROOPS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN HIM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—An inquiry into the character and policies of the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, General Wrangel, has been begun by government officials. No immediate anticipation of recognition by the United States is involved, officials said, but it is thought possible that the elements clustered about the Russian leader may afford a road to the creation of conditions in Russia permitting her re-acceptance among the nations.

One report on the career of the Russian general already has been received written by a neutral observer attached to the staff of General Wrangel. It is said to be the first authentic summary of his achievements received in Washington.

Enlisted in Army in 1901

General Wrangel, but thirty-nine years old, according to the report, enlisted in the Russian army in 1901, as a private after having been educated as a mining engineer.

His remote ancestor are said to come from Germany, his stock is of Baltic province derivation.

Leaving the army in 1902 as a lieutenant, Wrangel entered for the Russo-Japanese war and was twice promoted for bravery. In the European war as captain of cavalry, he distinguished himself for which he was awarded the Cross of St. George.

Promoted to a colonel, he became an aide to the czar and later became commander of the First Trans-Baikal Cossack regiment, with which in July, 1916, he captured an entire battalion and several machine guns. He was then promoted to major general.

Early in the revolution when the Russian offensive in Galicia was preceded by a disorderly retreat, General Wrangel is said to have "prevented a great military disaster." As a division commander and afterwards in command of a cavalry corps he continued with the army until the revolution had destroyed its discipline completely.

General Wrangel then retired to the Crimea. Arrested by the Bolsheviks he very narrowly escaped execution, being saved by his wife, who obtained his release.

In 1918 with the growth of the volunteer anti-Bolshevik army he was given command of a brigade under General Erdeli. Succeeding to command he routed the Bolshevik troops and liberated the Kuban, and finally attained, in February, 1919, the liberation of the whole of North Caucasus and the Terek state, capturing 40,000 prisoners and much material. He was then made lieutenant general and placed in command of the Caucasian army.

Stricken with typhus fever it was not until April when the volunteer army had suffered heavy reverses that he resumed command on account of the necessity of reforming the forces of General Denikine he was designated military adviser to General Shilov.

With the evacuation of Odessa, Wrangel proceeded to Sevastopol where he was requested by the British admiral on account of previous difficulties with General Denikine to leave Russia. He retired to Novorossk and later to the Crimea.

"The nervousness of the troops," the report declared, resulting from the news of his retirement, forced him to leave Russia for the time but in April, 1920, "public opinion, clamoring for a new leader, caused General Denikine, then head of the volunteer army, to resign and a council of Russian generals to elect Wrangel as his successor."

Granting of Increase Means Increase in Price of Coal

UNION OFFICIALS REFUSE TO COMMENT

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 14.—Representatives of the miners of the joint state committee of miners and operators of the central competitive bituminous coal field, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia, at a joint conference tonight, submitted to the operators a demand for a supplemental contract calling for a wage increase of $2 per day to all day and monthly laborers and an increase of ten cents per ton on both pick and machine mining, both retroactive to August 1.

Miners' Proposal
The miners' proposal, as presented to the operators follows: "Pursuant to the call of the president of the United States that a joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive field meet to correct inequalities in the award of the bituminous commission we submit the following:

(1)—That the rate of pay of all day and monthly men be advanced $2 per day.
(2)—That the minimum scale in the basing districts within the central competitive fields, both pick and machine, be increased ten cents per ton and that differentials both within and between districts, be referred to the different districts affected.

(3)—That the price of explosives be referred to the different districts.
(4)—That no fines be assessed until it is first determined by the official representatives of both parties to the agreement that a violation of contract has occurred.

(5)—That the increase to day men, monthly men and on mining prices, both pick and machine, herein proposed be made retroactive to August 1st.

Refuse to Comment
The operators refused to comment tonight on what action they would take on the miners' proposition. They will meet tomorrow morning to discuss the meeting and said they would probably have a reply ready by Monday.

No estimate would be made by the operators of the probable increase in the price of coal in case the demand was granted.

E. C. Searls, president of the Illinois Operators' association, however, said it was granted there would be a "substantial" increase in the price of coal.

Ellis Searles, of Indianapolis, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, said there would be no strike of miners in case the operators refuse the wage increase.

Officials of the miners' union would not comment on their demands.

About 27 per cent of the men employed in the central field mines are day workers receiving $6 a day, one dollar of which was the increase awarded by President Wilson's coal commission last spring. Tonnage pay on run of mine for pick miners in Ohio sub-districts is $1.11 and a fraction of which 24 cents was the increase granted by the commission.

Apply Only to Central Fields
The demands, if granted, would apply directly only to the district in the central competitive bituminous field, but since all contracts thru the country are based upon the rate paid in the central fields, the demands presented here today affect the coal industry throughout this country and Canada. District presidents from outlying sections took part in drawing up the miners' demands but did not attend the joint conference.

The demands constitute the main suggestions brought here by district representatives they embody in the main the demands the Illinois strikers made three weeks ago, such as the $2 a day increase for the day men, a raise for the tonnage men and abolition of the automatic penalty clause for unauthorized striking. Several operators said they believed the miners presented tonight's demands as an asking price and would expect to bargain over them. The miners are seeking what they call a supplemental contract not to take the place of the present contract which has until March 31, 1922, still to run.

ONLY $50,000 WORTH IS RECOVERED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 14.—A conspiracy thru which liquor worth $356,000 was fraudulently taken from a United States bonded warehouse at Owensboro, Kentucky, was revealed by a raid here this afternoon in which a deputy constable and ten others were arrested after local police, with the aid of government agents, had recovered more than $50,000 worth of the whiskey.

The liquor, according to government agents, was sent to St. Louis Wednesday consigned to Deputy Constable Harry Levin. Levin is charged with having obtained a permit to remove the liquor from the warehouse to St. Louis under the pretense of carrying on a wholesale liquor business for medicinal purposes.

In the two raids conducted in this city a total of 1915 cases of whiskey were recovered. The remainder of the shipment consigned to the city is still being sought by the authorities.

PEACE DELEGATES LEAVE WARSAW TO MEET BOLSHEVISTS

Take Baggage in Addition to Records and Reference Books

NEWSPAPER MEN ACCOMPANY PARTY

WARSAW, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Polish peace delegates who are to meet Bolshevik representatives to discuss an armistice and peace left at dawn this morning for Minsk, where the conference is to be held.

The automobile carrying the delegates left here just at daybreak. They are scheduled to reach the frontier east of Siedlce before 7 o'clock where they will meet Bolshevik officers who will conduct them to Minsk.

Considerable baggage was taken by the delegates in addition to the records and reference books. Packages of food, enough for an extended stay if necessary, were also carried.

General Listowsky heads the military experts while among the delegates of the party is Stanislas Grabski, the national Democratic leader and Norbert Barlicki, Socialist leader.

M. Dombitaki who heads the delegation is one of the peasant leaders.

The party left Warsaw led by three Polish officers in an army automobile which saw service in France. Three new staffs arrived with the delegation.

Some of the delegates could be seen beside the chauffeurs of this car. On the hood of the automobile was perched a teddy bear.

A correspondent of The Associated Press and another correspondent accompanied the party.

BOLSHEVIK FRONT DRAWING NEAR

Warsaw, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—The front is being gradually brought nearer Warsaw. Before Saturday's dawn artillery flashes were visible against the clouds to the north and northeast and at times the bark of cannon could be heard.

Today's communique concedes that the Poles withdrew further in the center asserting it was for reasons of defense line less than nineteen kilometers out.

But even more serious according to observers is the situation northwest of Warsaw where Red cavalrymen are making rapid progress toward the Vistula.

The cavalry's right flank, which follows the right wing of the Russian front, has been reinforced by Red infantry soldiers who have requisitioned the peasant's horses and are following closely upon the heels of the cavalry.

The Poles say there is no chance of the Bolsheviks crossing the Vistula either below or above Warsaw, as the Russians have been doing habitually for two hundred years in taking Warsaw from the west and that all previous attempts in these sections have been taken. It is estimated it will require several days before the Reds from the northwest reach the river. Meantime, the newspapers continue confident that a counter stroke will bring results. The Reds, however, are making a little progress daily at various points particularly directly in front of the city and on the northwest.

PRESIDENT WILSON GIVES THREE KIDS AUTO RIDE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Three kids, just out of a swimming hole in Rock Creek Park, were picked up today by President Wilson, treated to a 45-minute motor ride and dropped out at their home in town so proud the folks there could not hold them with a rope.

The trio had just come from a dip in one of the park's streams and were hiking along the road-way when they saw the white house car and recognized the president. Off came their caps and as Mr. Wilson ordered the car stopped they timidly approached and asked how he was getting along.

"Hop in," said the president, and the three kids along with the ride they kept their eyes on the President and Mrs. Wilson answered more questions than they asked.

Water from towed heads trickled over three sunburnt faces and dripped on the president's shoes. One youngster ducked to save the president's shine and apologized, but was told not to worry.

Coming down Connecticut avenue, the youngest of the trio, a thin, frail lad barely eight years old, spied a kid he knew and called to him by name. The youngster in the street dropped a loaf of bread and gasped.

When the kids got out all three shook hands with the president and his wife.

"Son long, bo," one shouted to the secret service man on the front seat. The president smiled broadly, lifted his hat, and started home.

HARDING WILL DEAL WITH MANY CAMPAIGN ISSUES

Will Deliver Labor Day Address From Front Porch

WILL DISCUSS LEAGUE IN MINNESOTA

MARION, O., Aug. 14.—Labor, the league of nations, agriculture issues and the tariff are to be made head liners of Senator Harding's campaign during early September, under a program revealed today in connection with announcement of plans for the first speech outside of Ohio.

The labor address will be delivered Labor Day, September 6, probably from the front porch. It is understood a number of labor organizations have asked for the appointment.

The agriculture and the league are to be coupled in an address on September 8 at the Minnesota State Fair. Senator Harding said no other speeches would be made on this trip and explained that his decision to go to Minnesota was in no sense a modification of his front porch program.

EXPECTS LOTS OF SHOUTING

No definite date has been set for a discussion of the tariff, but the nominee today made plain his purpose to emphasize it as his campaign develops. He said he expected to see a "lot of shouting" about the tariff soon and that he would advocate a protective schedule worked out by congress in cooperation with the tariff commission.

Senator Harding plans to make his trip to Minnesota in leisurely fashion, stopping on the way for political conferences. He does not expect to travel by special train or private car. He said, his acceptance of the Minnesota invitation would preclude any possibility of his going to other western fairs.

While this speech is to be devoted primarily to agriculture, he expects also to include an elaboration of the foreign policy, he announced in his speech of acceptance. It is believed he will take note of recent Democratic utterances on the league of nations and in reply will carry a step further his proposal for peace by resolution and for an international association not impairing American independence.

IMPROVEMENT IN COAL MOVEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Reports to the National Coal Association made public today said that during the first three days of this week the average daily quota of 4,000 cars loaded at the mines serving the Great Lakes movement was exceeded with a total of 12,430.

Every indication points to the effective operation of the new program recently put under way to overcome the acute soft coal shortages in the northwest as well as the rest of the country, the statement continues.

"Altho the flow of coal to the Great Lakes in the last two weeks has been below the requirement still there has been such an improvement in the movement of coal in the northwest will be overcome before the close of lake navigation in November."

COX CHARGES THAT REPUBLICANS ARE SPENDING MILLIONS

Plays Opposition in Five Speeches Made Saturday

LEAGUE FOREMOST ISSUE IN SPEECHES

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Governor Cox today threw his force into the presidential campaign with five speeches here and thru Ohio, all flaying what he termed the Republican "reactionary candidate and leaders" and supporting the league of nations as the premier Democratic cause.

He stormed the Republican position attacked the "senatorial oligarchy," which he said, was trying to add the presidency to its domination, denounced proposals for a separate peace with Germany as "perfidy" and charged that a few men were banded together trying to "buy the presidency."

Says Millions Being Spent.
Millions upon millions of dollars, he added, are being taken to the Republican campaign fund. That Senator Harding is surrounded by a senatorial "ring" was asserted by Governor Cox adding in a filing at the Harding front porch campaign that he could not be "kept muzzled" on his front porch by any ring.

It was the first big day of campaigning. Motoring from Columbus he made three brief addresses enroute at Zanesville, Cambridge and St. Clairsville, Ohio, addressed the W. Virginia Democratic convention late today and a public meeting tonight on the river front.

The league was foremost in all of the governor's addresses. The Republican leaders, he charged are behind a smoke screen of hypocrisy—for one thing pure and simple, administration spoils. He also stressed what he declared was the fight between reactionary Republicanism and "progressive Democracy" and predicted his election.

U. S. IS MAKING FORMAL INQUIRY OF GEN. WRANGLER

Identified Prominently With Military Campaigns

TROOPS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN HIM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—An informal inquiry into the character and policies of the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, General Wrangel, has been begun by government officials. No immediate anticipation of recognition by the United States is involved, officials said, but it is thought possible that the elements clustered about the Russian leader may afford a road to the creation of conditions in Russia permitting her re-acceptance among the nations.

One report on the career of the Russian general already has been received written by a neutral observer attached to the staff of General Wrangel. It is said to be the first authentic summary of his achievements received in Washington.

Enlisted in Army in 1901

General Wrangel, but thirty-nine years old, according to the report, enlisted in the Russian army in 1901, as a private after having been educated as a mining engineer.

His remote ancestor are said to come from Germany, his stock is of Baltic province derivation.

Leaving the army in 1902 as a lieutenant, Wrangel entered for the Russo-Japanese war and was twice promoted for bravery. In the European war as captain of cavalry, he distinguished himself for which he was awarded the Cross of St. George.

Promoted to a colonel, he became an aide to the czar and later became commander of the First Trans-Baikal Cossack regiment with which in July, 1916, he captured an entire battalion and several machine guns. He was then promoted to major general.

Early in the revolution when the Russian offensive in Galicia was preceded by a disorderly retreat, General Wrangel is said to have "prevented a great military disaster." As a division commander and afterwards in command of a cavalry corps he continued with the army until the revolution had destroyed its discipline completely.

General Wrangel then retired to the Crimea. Arrested by the Bolsheviks he very narrowly escaped execution, being saved by his wife, who obtained his release.

In 1918 with the growth of the volunteer anti-Bolshevik army he was given command of a brigade under General Erdell. Succeeding to command of the brigade he captured the Kuban, and finally attained, in February, 1919, the liberation of the whole of North Caucasus and the Terek state, capturing 40,000 prisoners and much material. He was then made lieutenant general and placed in command of the Caucasian army.

Stricken With Typhus
It was not until April when the volunteer army had suffered heavy reverses that he resumed command and on account of the necessity of reforming the forces of General Denikine he was designated as military adviser to General Shilling.

With the evacuation of Odessa, Wrangel proceeded to Sevastopol where he was requested by the British admiral on account of previous difficulties with General Denikine to leave Russia. He retired to Novorossik and later to the Crimea.

"The nervousness of the troops," the report declared, resulting from the news of his resignation, forced him to leave Russia for the time but in April, 1920, "public opinion, clamoring for a new leader, caused General Denikine, then head of the volunteer army, to resign and a council of Russian generals to elect Wrangel as his successor."

Automobile drivers who have passed thru the city in recent days say that they don't mind the mid half as much as the dust

they have met on their journeys.

Now road conditions are vastly improved and it is a nice thing to remember that, following the

Morgan county rule, the rain came in time to save the corn crop.

Mayor Thompson in a recent address attacked the record of

Congressman McKinley because the latter voted in favor of the draft law. Possibly in some communities that might be good campaign material, but in the average country-loving audience in Illinois it would not strike a responsive chord.

The congressmen who voted against the law and thus opposed the country's plan for resistance offered Germany, have had a mighty hard time explaining their willingness to uphold the hands of the government.

THE BOSTON WAY

In Boston the city council has authorized the expenditure of $15,000,000 for the building of houses because of the housing shortage in the eastern city. Conditions must be acute or public sentiment would not be in favor of the city entering upon such a hazardous undertaking of serving as landlord to so large a number of citizens.The proposal sounds like a decided step toward government paternalism. After the houses have been built, why not have the administration serve the family meals.PERSONAL PROPERTY FIGURESThe compilation of personal property statistics for this year presents some interesting facts.
The total value of personalty in the county is now almost half a million dollars less than it was in 1919. This is true notwithstanding the fact that the number of automobile owners this year is 500 greater than in 1919.
The number of domestic animals on the farms is not as great this year and these animals are of lesser value. These figures have some particular significance for they show that farmers have been somewhat discouraged over results of the livestock operations, the rates not being as large as if the graintaken from the farms were put directly upon the market, and of the figures are worth consideration.

TOOK WISE COURSE

It is fortunate, indeed, that employees of the street railway company who quit work at noon
Saturday because of dissatisfaction with their wage scale, remained off duty only a few hours and that interruption of traffic was therefore comparatively brief. When the men and the superintendent came into conference they were quickly found that at this time there is no real difference of opinion and that an answer to the request for higher pay can be expected soon from the non-resident company authorities, who decide such matters.When employees remain away from work pending the settlement of differences with their employers the public is inconvenient and both parties to the disagreement suffer money losses. The reasonable, sane course is that taken by the railway employees in decided to return to work pending final settlement of their requests.THE BANKER AS A PREACHERBankers come into close touch with human nature. Their relationships with their clients enable them often to give good advice that hasn't a strictly financial turn. These bankers, especially with their younger customers, often preach sermons on thrift, right living or other personal matters.Some time ago a man went into a Jacksonville bank and said to one of the officers: "Well, I'm ready to pay off that $1,000 to my father. I made several payments before, you know, and this will pay all I owe him."The banker looked the customer in the eye and said:
"Young man, you will never be able to repay all that you owe your father."It was just a little incident but gave the younger man something to think about, and he afterward that he had come to a new realization of what his father had done for him, not in the mere advancing of money but in advice and counsel and example.The fact is that most men have no real estimate of what the father or mother has meant in the family circle until the years of maturity have come.
Yes, the banker as a preacher has some good texts and some good opportunities to use them.Rippling Rhymes

ASSESSMENT LISTFigures Show Less Holdings in County This Year Than in 1919.The work of compiling the personal property assessment list in Morgan county has just been completed by County Treasurer Grant
Craff and his office deputy, W.
H. Self. The personal property of the county has decreased something more than $500,000. The decrease is particularly noticeable in the lesser value of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs this year.
Farmers of Morgan county have 3,934 less cattle this year than they did in 1919. There has been a shrinkage of 3,387 in the number of hogs for 1920 by comparison with 1919, and the value of hogs this year by comparison with 1919, was about $180,000 less.
There was, however, a considerable increase in the number of

Main street and Pennsylvania avenue, a gigantic cottonwood tree which has attracted the admiration of lovers of beautiful

ing the past week this relic of by-gone days has been hewn down it does not seem out of place to give to those who may be interested a little of the history of this tree.A few years ago the late E. P.
Jones who occupied the old colonial home where this faithful tree cast its welcome shade so long told a few facts regarding this tree. In 1821 Lazarus Reeve came from North Carolina to make his home amid the fertile prairies of Illinois. He selected what has since become South Jacksonville.
While his dwelling was being built, Mr. Reeve planted this tree and from that day to this the growth of the tree and the growth of civilization have run together.Today the city with its 16,000 inhabitants has taken the place of the open prairie, the lurking savage and the howling wolf. The cottonwood sapling which Lazarus Reeve planted ninety years ago
now measures 19 feet, 8 inches around its base and stretches its foliage at least for 100 feet.For some time past this tree has been considered dangerous and so many who prized it highly for its beauty as well as its great age will agree that it was wisest to take it down.Attend the American Leg-

Automobile drivers who have passed thru the city in recent days say that they don't mind the mud half as much as the dust they have met on their journey. Now road conditions are vastly improved and it is a nice thing to remember that, following the Morgan county rule, the rain came in time to save the corn crop.

Mayor Thompson in a recent address attacked the record of Congressman McKinley because the latter voted in favor of the draft law. Possibly in some communities that might be good campaign material, but in the average country-loving audience in Illinois it would not strike a responsive chord.

The congressmen who voted against the law and thus opposed the country's plan for resistance offered Germany, have had a mighty hard time explaining their willingness to uphold the hands of the government.

THE BOSTON WAY

In Boston the city council has authorized the expenditure of $15,000,000 for the building of homes because of the housing shortage in the eastern city. Conditions must be acute or public sentiment would not be in favor of the city entering upon such a hazardous undertaking of serving as landlord to so large a number of citizens.

The proposal sounds like a decided step toward government paternalism. After the houses have been built, why not have the administration serve the family meals?

PERSONAL PROPERTY FIGURES

The compilation of personal property statistics for this year presents some interesting facts. The total value of personalty in the county is now almost half a million dollars less than it was in 1919. This is true notwithstanding the fact that the number of automobile owners this year is 500 greater than in 1919.

The number of domestic animals on the farms is not as great this year and these animals are of lesser value. These figures have some particular significance for the farmer, who has been somewhat discouraged over results of the livestock operations, the rates not being as large as if the grain taken from the farms were put directly upon the market, and of the figures are worth consideration.

TOOK WISE COURSE

It is fortunate, indeed, that employees of the street railway company who quit work at noon Saturday because of dissatisfaction with their wage scale, remained off duty only a few hours and that interruption of traffic was therefore comparatively brief. When the men and the superintendent came into conference they were quickly found that at this time there is no real difference of opinion and that an answer to the request for higher pay can be expected soon from the non-resident company authorities, who decide such matters.

When employees remain away from work pending the settlement of differences with their employers the public is inconvenienced and both parties to the disagreement suffer money losses. The reasonable, sane course is that taken by the railway employees in decided to return to work pending final settlement of their requests.

THE BANKER AS A PREACHER

Bankers come into close touch with human nature. Their relationships with their clients enable them often to give good advice that hasn't a strictly financial turn. These bankers, especially with their younger customers, often preach sermonettes on thrift, right living or other personal matters.

Some time ago a man went into a Jacksonville bank and said to one of the officers: "Well, I'm ready to pay off that $1,000 to my father. I made several payments before you knew, and this will pay all I owe him."

The banker looked the customer in the eye and said: "Young man, you will never be able to repay all that you owe your father."

It was just a little incident but gave the younger man something to think about, and he afterward that he had come to a new realization of what his father had done for him, not in the mere advancing of money but in advice and counsel and example.

The fact is that most men have no real estimate of what the father or mother has meant in the family circle until the years of maturity have come. Yes, the banker as a preacher has some good texts and some good opportunities to use them.

Rippling Rhymes

By Wait Bissan

Jim, The Penman.

The greatest forger of his day, of international renown, the other morning took his way, all footsore, to his native town. There were no greater human sharks in all the records of the past; he skinned unnumbered easy marks, and cleaned up millions, first and last. And now we see him sadly wend, to seek the town where he was born, without a buck, without a friend, all in world beaten and forlorn. "Why, yes," the Village Fathers cried, "there is a haven for you here; the poorhouse doors are open wide—rest there. O wreck of yesterday. There Jim the Penman found a stall, nor will he leave those doors again; and there he sits, against the wall, and thinks of all that might have been. And to the poorhouse of crime, whose crooked plans for reaping kale use up the efforts of their prime. The man who fairly earns his mon, by industry, can sing and smile; the hoodooed doll is the one that's gained by trickery and guile.

PERSONAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT LIST

Figures Show Less Holdings in County This Year Than in 1919.

The work of compiling the personal property assessment list in Morgan county has just been completed by County Treasurer Grant Craft and his office deputy, W. H. Self. The personal property of the county has decreased something more than $500,000. The decrease is particularly noticeable in the lesser value of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs this year. Farmers of Morgan county have 3,934 less cattle this year than they did in 1919. There has been a shrinkage of 3,387 in the number of hogs for 1920 by comparison with 1919, and the value of hogs this year by comparison with 1919, was about $130,000 less. There was, however, a considerable increase in the number of Automobiles owned in the county this year and a corresponding increase in value. In 1919 the people of Morgan county owned 3,214 automobiles and trucks with a value of 721,967. This year the number listed by the assessors was 3,214, with a value of $1,050,980. This shows that during the year the number of automobiles and trucks has increased by 525.

In addition to losses on livestock there are losses on grain and merchandise. The number of dogs in the county in 1919 was listed at 1877, while this year the assessors listed 2092. It might be stated in connection with the figures relating to the dogs that in accordance with the new law the assessors collected the tax on the dogs at the time of assessment.

LOUISIANA OIL PIPE LINES NOW COMMON CARRIERS

New Orleans.—Oil pipe lines in Louisiana today became common carriers under provisions of a law enacted by the recent general assembly. The lines now come under the supervision and regulation of the state railroad commission.

The bill as passed concluded a fight of long standing between the Standard Oil company of Louisiana and the independent oil producers of north Louisiana. The independents claimed that the nature of the business conducted by the Standard proved the corporation's lines to be common carriers, while the Standard contended its lines were private property.

The term "common carriers" as defined in the law includes persons, firms or corporations engaged in the transportation of crude petroleum for hire or which may be legally held to be such from the nature of their business. It is provided that there shall be no discrimination against the owners or shippers of oil.

DECISION IS GIVEN IN COWAN WILL CASE

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Nine cousins were upheld as the heirs of William P. Cowan died in the summer of 1918, leaving an estate valued at $2,000,000 and a nation-wide search was made for heirs. Appeals were filed in behalf of Mrs. Mary McAdams of Quincy, Ill., Miss Catherine Cowan, of Chicago and David Henry Cowan of Canastota, N. Y., as the same time Lowery's appeal was filed.

TREE TO HAVE PLACE IN THE HALL OF FAME

Tree Planted in Memory of Abraham Lincoln Nominated for Place in Hall of Fame for "Trees With a History."

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON.—The only tree known to have been planted in memory of Abraham Lincoln right after his assassination has been nominated for a place in the Hall of Fame for "trees with a history" which the American Forestry Association is compiling. A. S. Bailey of Decorah, Iowa, where the tree stands, informed the association that the tree was planted by one John Finn, who is still living.

When Abraham Lincoln was assassinated Mr. Finn was in Chicago and he returned home much depressed. A few days later, on April 27, 1865 Governor Stone of Iowa declared a day of mourning for Lincoln. Finn went into the woods and dug up a small hackberry shoot which he transplanted on the street in front of his home. The shoot took root and today is one of the most magnificent trees in Iowa. It is 110 feet high and nearly 12 feet in circumference to which facts the American Forestry Association points as a great lesson in what can be done in tree planting.

The daughters of the American Revolution, the Grand Army of the Republic and historical societies of the country are said to be reporting many other trees with a history to the American Forestry Association. Other nominations for the Hall of Fame are: The first clear oak tree in the Hawaiian Islands by M. J. R. R. of Flagstaff, Ariz. This tree seed was taken to Honolulu by Father Bachelot from California. There are now thousands of them in the islands.

The General Johnston Oak on the Blithfold Battlefield by the Chamber of Commerce of Corinth, Miss. Under this tree General Albert Sidney Johnston was killed while leading his troops. The tree, now 200 years old, is a relic for the National government.

The Washington Oak near San Francisco, S. C., nominated by J. Danforth, a Wilmington, Del. The tree was spared from the ax when George Washington urged that it not be cut down. The tree is on the estate of Colonel Henry Rutledge.

The largest canyon live oak in California is believed to have been found by L. A. Barlett of the United States Forest Service near the Biddison Ranch in Bouquet canyon on the Santa Barbara Forest.

The San Diego Mission Palm, nominated by T. P. Getz. This is the only one remaining of the four planted in 1769. Two were sent to the Chicago World's Fair in 1892 and a third was blown down in 1913.

The Blunston Oak, just over the Philadelphia line in Darby, nominated by Miss Ethel Austin Shrigley of Lansdown, Pa. This tree was mentioned in a deed in 1838 and grew beneath it in 1777. General Washington watched his army march from Philadelphia to Chadd's Ford.

The old Sassafras Tree at Harrisburg, now 208 years old, nominated by J. S. Illick. It was 15 years old when John Harris, Jr., son of the man who founded the Pennsylvania capital, was born. The tree is 13 feet in circumference and 56 feet high.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Matewan, West Va., Aug. 14.—A. E. Hatfield and Dr. Edward Simkins, well known residents of Matewan, the former a relative of former Governor H. D. Hatfield were shot from ambush tonight while seated in front of a hotel on the main street. They were said to be in a serious condition.

OLD FERRY HOUSE IS BEING RESTORED

Purchase Land Where Boats Were Secreted Ready to Carry Washington's Troops for Attack on Trenton.

Philadelphia.—The Old Ferry House and Tavern at Washington Crossing, Pa., is being restored and adopted as a central building for park purposes.

All the properties on the Delaware river bank east of the river road as far as the upper end of the island, behind which boats were secreted, ready for the embarkation of George Washington's troops for the attack on Trenton, have been bought by the Washington Park Commission.

This covers a river frontage of over 1,500 feet and includes the point of embarkation and the Old Ferry Road leading to it. The commission also has purchased the island and about 60 acres to the west of River Road which includes the ridge behind which the Continental troops were massed and drilled that eventful Christmas day before the battle of Trenton.

The commission has laid out a general scheme covering the territory in which Washington's troops were quartered after having been driven across New Jersey and over the Delaware river on December 8, at Morrisville. This includes the base of supplies and New Hope ferry, the uppermost ferry guarded to keep the British from crossing.

It covers the headquarters houses of Washington and 11 of his generals. At the graves of the soldiers who died it is proposed to erect monuments. Eventually the National government will be asked to build a memorial bridge over the Delaware at the point where Washington made his never-to-be-forgotten journey across the swollen Delaware amid ice floes and dangers from an unseen foe.

LOUISIANA OIL PIPE LINES NOW COMMON CARRIERS

New Orleans.—Oil pipe lines in Louisiana today became common carriers under provisions of a law enacted by the recent general assembly. The lines now come under the supervision and regulation of the state railroad commission.

The bill as passed concluded a fight of long standing between the Standard Oil company of Louisiana and the independent oil producers of north Louisiana. The independents claimed that the nature of the business conducted by the Standard proved the corporation's lines to be common carriers, while the Standard contended its lines were private property.

The term "common carriers" as defined in the law includes persons, firms or corporations engaged in the transportation of crude petroleum for hire or which may be legally held to be such from the nature of their business. It is provided that there shall be no discrimination against the owners or shippers of oil.

DECISION IS GIVEN IN COWAN WILL CASE

Judge Cliff of DuPage Court Holds Nine Cousins as Heirs—Three Appeals to Decision Filled

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Nine cousins were upheld as the heirs of William P. Cowan, former president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in a decision today by Judge Cliff in the DuPage court circuit in which he denied the appeal of a half Indian of Neeleyville, Mo., who represented that he was the oil man's son.

Mr. Cowan died in the summer of 1918, leaving an estate valued at $2,000,000 and a nation-wide search was made for heirs. TREE TO HAVE PLACE IN THE HALL OF FAME

Tree Planted in Memory of Abraham Lincoln Nominated for Place in Hall of Fame for "Trees With a History."

WASHINGTON.—The only tree known to have been planted in memory of Abraham Lincoln right after his assassination has been nominated for a place in the Hall of Fame for "trees with a history" which the American Forestry Association is compiling. A. S. Bailey of Decorah, Iowa, where the tree stands, informed the association that the tree was planted by one John Finn, who is still living.

When Abraham Lincoln was assassinated Mr. Finn was in Chicago and he returned home much depressed. A few days later, on April 27, 1865 Governor Stone of Iowa declared a day of mourning for Lincoln. Finn went into the woods and dug up a small hackberry shoot which he transplanted on the street in front of his home. The shoot took root and today is one of the most magnificent trees in Iowa. It is 110 feet high and nearly 12 feet in circumference to which facts the American Forestry Association believe is a great lesson in what can be done in tree planting.

The daughters of the American Revolution, the Grand Army of the Republic and historical societies of the country are said to be reporting many other trees with a history to the American Forestry Association. Other nominations for the Hall of Fame are: The first eucalypta tree in the Hawaiian Islands by M. J. Rioridan of Flagstaff, Ariz. This tree seed was taken to Honolulu by Father Bachelot from California. There are now thousands of them in the islands.

The General Johnston Oak on the Shiloh Battlefield by the Chamber of Commerce of Corinth, Miss. Under this tree General Albert Sidney Johnston was killed while leading his troops. The tree, now 200 years old, is a relic for the National government.

The Washington Oak near San-tee, S. C., nominated by J. Danforth Rush of Wilmington, Del. The tree was spared from the ax when George Washington urged that it not be cut down. This tree is on the estate of Colonial Henry Rutledge.

The largest canyon live oak in California is believed to have been found by L. A. Barrett of the United States Forest Service near the Biddison Ranch in Bouquet Canyon on the Santa Barbara Forest.

The San Diego Mission Palm, nominated by T. P. Getz. This is the only one remaining of the four planted in 1769. Two were sent to the Chicago World's Fair in 1892 and a third was blown down in 1913.

The Blunston Oak, just over the Philadelphia line in Darby, nominated by Miss Ethel Austin Shrigley of Lansdown, Pa. This tree was mentioned in a deed in 153 and from beneath it in 1777 General Washington watched his army march from Philadelphia to Chad's Ford.

The old Sassafras Tree at Harrisburg, now 208 years old, nominated by J. S. Illick. It was 15 years old when John Harris, Jr., son of the man who founded the Pennsylvania capital was born. The tree is 13 feet in circumference and 56 feet high.

OLD FERRY HOUSE IS BEING RESTORED

Purchase Land Where Boats Were Secreted Ready to Carry Washingtons Troops for Attack on Trenton.

Philadelphia.—The Old Ferry House and Tavern at Washington crossing, Pa. is being restored and adopted as a central building for park purposes.

All the properties on the Delaware river bank east of the river road as far as the upper end of the island, behind which boats were secreted, ready for the embarkation of George Washington's troops for the attack on Trenton, have been bought by the Washington Park Commission.

This covers a river frontage of over 1,500 feet and includes the point of embarkation and the Old Ferry Road leading to it. The commission also has purchased the island and about 60 acres to the west of River Road which includes the ridge behind which the Continental troops were massed and drilled that eventful Christmas day before the battle of Trenton.

The commission has laid out a general scheme covering the territory in which Washington's troops were quartered after having been driven across New Jersey and over the Delaware river on December 8, at Morrisville. This includes the base of supplies and New Hope ferry, the uppermost ferry guarded to keep the British from crossing.

It covers the headquarters houses of Washington and 11 of his generals. At the graves of the soldiers who died it is proposed to erect monuments. Eventually the National government will be asked to build a memorial bridge over the Delaware at the point where Washington made his never-to-be-forgotten journey across the swollen Delaware amid ice floes and dangers from an unseen foe.

NEW COUNTERFEITING INDUSTRY REPORTED
Washington. — A new counterfeiting "industry" has followed in the wake of prohibition. "This industry," says Chief Moran of the treasury secret service, "is the counterfeiting of the strip label revenue stamp that goes over the corks, or that used to go over the corks, or whisky bottled in bond. Those engaged in the manufacture of whisky are prepared to use those counterfeit stamps and we have arrested three gangs already for doing it."

At present the main problems of the secret service, however, are to check note raising, which Chief Moran says has increased to an alarming extent in the last year and the forgery of government checks, which he adds "has become almost an epidemic."

Records of the secret service show, according to Mr. Moran, more arrests and investigations during the last year than for any similar preceding period.

NEW COUNTERFEITING INDUSTRY REPORTED
Washington. — A new counterfeiting "industry" has followed in the wake of prohibition. "This industry," says Chief Moran of the treasury secret service, "is the counterfeiting of the strip label revenue stamp that goes over the corks, or that used to go over the corks, or whisky bottled in bond. Those engaged in the manufacture of whisky are prepared to use those counterfeit stamps and we have arrested three gangs already for doing it."

At present the main problems of the secret service, however, are to check note raising, which Chief Moran says has increased to an alarming extent in the last year and the forgery of government checks, which he adds "has become almost an epidemic."

Records of the secret service show, according to Mr. Moran, more arrests and investigations during the last year than for any similar preceding period.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES MARCH IN REVIEW BEFORE KING ALBERT

Americans Went Into the Parade in Fine Spirits and Expect to Win

U. S. DELEGATION WELL APPLAUDED

ANTWERP, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Olympic athletes, sportsmen and officials of 27 nations, to the number of 1,612 marched in an impressive, colorful review before King Albert of the Belgians today in the ceremony opening the Olympic stadium, where all was in readiness tonight for the actual competitions beginning tomorrow.

The Americans as a result of reinstatement of Dan Ahern, who had been dismissed from the team on charges of insubordination, went into the parade in fine spirit and full of hope for victory.

The field was thronged with Olympic competitors, ranging in color from the pale blonde men and women of the Northland to the almost jet black of some of the Americans.

In age they ranged from Little Alben Rignin, the 12-year old American diver, to a bearded Belgian archer, the last international who might have been Allen's great grand father. When King Albert proclaimed the stadium open, after Cardinal Mercier had pronounced the benediction seven cannon shots boomed and carrier pigeons fluttered over the field. An airplane flying low gave the only Twentieth Century touch to a pageant such as might have attended a tournament in knight-hood days.

The delegation from the United States was well applauded. There were 84 women in the parade, 42 of them representing Sweden. The group of fawn-haired Danes in their light blue gymnasium bloomers was the most picturesque in the field.

Tomorrow's events at the stadium include the javeline throw finals, the preliminaries in the 300 meters event, the 400 meters hurdles and the 800 meters run. They will start at 11 o'clock. The American entrants in these four events are:

Javeline throw—M. S. Angier, Beardstown, Illinois; A. C. J. C. Lincoln, New York; J. F. Hanner, Leland Stanford University and A. M. Tuck, Portland, Oregon.

400 meter hurdles—Frank Loomis, Chicago; A. A. J. K. Norton, San Francisco; A. G. Desch, Notre Dame University, and Chas. D. Dages, Los Angeles.

800 meters—Earl Eby, Chicago; A. C. Lieutenant D. M. Scott, U. S. army; Thomas Campbell, Yale and A. B. Spott, Los Angeles.

Three of the Americans who are to compete on Monday and Tuesday will practice tomorrow on the football field. The others will be permitted to witness the stadium contests.

YOST'S TWENTIETH YEAR AT ANN ARBOR

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—A squad of 54 men is expected to furnish the material from which Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's veteran football coach, will construct his 1920 football machine. Invitations to that number of gridiron aspirants have been sent out, and the training season will get under way September 15, when a squad of ten letter men and twenty-four others will report at Ferry Field. A score of others have been invited to report September 22.

This will be Yost's twentieth year at Ann Arbor. He will have the assistance at a number of points of Michigan stars this year. Among them are Archie Hahn, former track leader, who will have charge of the training squad; and Joe Maddock, regarded as one of the greatest tackles ever produced in Michigan.

Among the letter men expected back at Ann Arbor for the initial training work are Captain Angus Goetz, tackle; R. J. Dunne, end; Henry A. Vick, center; Frank Stokette, guard; and Harold Rye, end. Elton E. Weiman, of Los Angeles, also a letter man, probably will be among those on the ground. He is regarded by Maize and Blue supporters as a strong tackle man, making with Captain Goetz, a pair that can outclass any pair the team will meet this season.

While optimism is being held in check this year, the outlook for a powerful team is felt to be much brighter this year than it was last fall. Eight veterans were out of the lineup as ineligible last fall. This year not one is on the ineligible list.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Ty Cobb, the Detroit star, cracked out twelve hits in his last six games and boosted his average among the leading batters of the American League to .341, as compared with .322 a week ago. The Georgian seemed to have struck his old time stride and gives promise of finishing close to the leaders. Tris Speaker, manager of the Clevelanders, continues to top the regulars who have participated in fifty or more games, his mark of .417 which he acquired last week remaining unchanged the fact he played in five more games.

"Babe" Ruth, of New York, the home run king, leads in runs scored with 120, and is out in front in total bases with 295. He stands fourth in batting with an average of .337, being topped by Jackson, of Chicago, who has .392, and Sisler of St. Louis, who is runner-up to Speaker with .404. Ruth had 41 home runs up to the completion of these averages which include Wednesday's games.

Rice of Washington has not been very successful in his specialty of stealing bases on the St. Louis and Chicago catchers in the past week, but with his last week's mark of 43 thefts remains far ahead of his rivals.

Cleveland, Chicago and New York the league leaders, are bunched in team fielding with averages of .971, .970 and .969 respectively, while in team batting Cleveland

OLYMPIC ATHLETES MARCH IN REVIEW BEFORE KING ALBERT

Americans Went Into the Parade in Fine Spirits and Expect to Win

U. S. DELEGATION WELL APPLAUDED

ANTWERP, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Olympic athletes, sportsmen and officials of 27 nations, to the number of 1,012 marched in an impressive, colorful review before King Albert of the Belgians today in the ceremony opening the Olympic stadium, where all was in readiness tonight for the actual competitions beginning tomorrow.

The Americans as a result of reinstatement of Dan Ahern who had been dismissed from the team on charges of insubordination, went into the parade in fine spirit and full of hope for victory. The field was thronged with Olympic competitors, ranging in color from the pale blonde men and women of the Northland to the almost jet black of some of the Americans. In age they ranged from little Alleen Righetti, the 12-year old American diver, to the bearded Belgian archer, the last international who might have been Ahern's great grandfather. When King Albert proclaimed the stadium open, after Cardinal Mercier had pronounced the benediction seven cannon shots boomed and carrier pigeons fluttered over the field. An airplane flying low gave the only Twentieth Century touch to a pageant such as might have attended a tournament in knight-hood days.

The delegation from the United States was well applauded. There were 84 women in the parade, 42 of them representing Sweden. The group of flaxen-haired Danes in their light blue gymnasium bloomers was the most picturesque in the field.

Tomorrow's events at the stadium include the javelin throw finals, the preliminaries in the 300 meters event, the 400 meters hurdles and the 800 meters run. They will start at 11 o'clock. The American entrants in these four events are:

Javelin throw—M. S. Angier, Beardstown, Illinois A. C.; J. C. Lincoln, New York; J. F. Hanner, Leland Stanford University and A. M. Tuck, Portland, Oregon.

100 meters—Loren Murchison, New York; J. V. Scholz, University of Missouri; Charles W. Padlock, Los Angeles; and M. M. Kirksey, San Francisco.

400 meter hurdles—Frank Loomis, Chicago A. A.; J. K. Norton, San Francisco; A. G. Desch, Notre Dame University; and Chas. D. Dages, Los Angeles.

800 meters—Earl Eby, Chicago A. A.; Lieutenant D. M. Scott, U. S. Army; Thomas Campbell, Yale and A. B. Sprott, Los Angeles.

Three of the Americans who are to compete on Monday and Tuesday will practice tomorrow

YOST'S TWENTIETH YEAR AT ANN ARBOR

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—A squad of 54 men is expected to furnish the material from which Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's veteran football coach, will construct his 1920 football machine. Invitations to that number of gridiron aspirants have been sent out, and the training season will get under way September 15, when a squad of ten letter men and twenty-four others will report at Ferry Field. A score of others have been invited to report September 22.

This will be Yost's twentieth year at Ann Arbor. He will have the assistance at a number of former Michigan stars this year. Among them are Archie Hahn, former track leader, who will have charge of the training squad; and Joe Maddock, regarded as one of the greatest tackles ever produced in Michigan.

Among the letter men expected back at Ann Arbor for the initial training work are Captain Angus Goetz, tackle; R. J. Dunne, end; Henry A. Vick, center; Frank Steketee, guard; and Harold Rye, end. Elton E. Weiman, of Los Angeles, also a letter man, probably will be among those on the ground. He is regarded by Maize and Blue supporters as a strong tackle man, making with Captain Goetz, a pair that can out-claw any pair the team will meet this season.

While optimism is being held in check this year, the outlook for a powerful team is felt to be much brighter this year than it was last fall. Eight veterans were out of the lineup as ineligible last fall. This year not one is on the ineligible list.

BRITISH GOLFER CARRIES AWAY CUP

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 14.—Edward Ray, British golfer, today carried away the cup emblematic of the American national golf championship which he won in the contest at Inverness with 295 strokes for 72 holes to hold it at Oxy club till a better golfer rests it from him. While the invader did not win the title by as low a score as has been set in some previous struggles, he had the unprecedented honor of having four runners-up, each of whom had a goodly putt on the final green for a half.

These were: Harry Varden, who won the same title 20 years ago; Jack Burke of St. Louis and Leo Diegel and Jock Hutchinson of Chicago.

GALVESTON SCENE OF UNIQUE LEGAL BATTLE

Attorney for Deposed City Commissioner Appears at Hearing in City's Suit to Enjoin Enforcement of Martial Law.

(By The Associated Press.)
GALVESTON, Texas.—Galveston, birthplace of the commission form of government, this morning became the scene of a legal battle unique in Texas annals when Frank S. Anderson, city attorney, acting on behalf of its deposed city commission, appeared before Judge Robert G. Street, of the Forty Sixth district court, in the preliminary hearing of the city's suit to enjoin the enforcement of martial law.

The defendants Governor W. P. Hobby, Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters, and every officer and private on duty in Galveston were represented by a distinguished array of legal talent from the attorney-general's office in Austin. The coastwise longshoremen's strike, out of which grew conditions leading up to the declaration of martial law, June 7, was called early in March. The strikers asked advances in wages, improvement of working conditions and to be placed on a parity with deep-sea longshoremen. After several attempts at negotiations, the walkout settled down to a test of strength.

The petition filed by the city on behalf of four city commissioners, A. P. Norman, J. C. Purcell, J. H. Germand and George E. Robertson, charges that the "acts and conduct of the defendants were in pursuance of an illegal and unlawful conspiracy, entered into between said defendants and certain other persons whose names are at present unknown to these

NEBRASKA FARMERS PLAN TO CO-OPERATE

Largest Co-Operative Organization of Farmers in U. S. Just Formed at Lincoln, Nebr.—To Conduct Regular Commission Business.

Lincoln, Nebr.—What is said to be the largest co-operative organization of farmers in the United States has just been formed here. It will market the grain of the 40,000 members of the Nebraska Farmers' Union and eliminate middlemen and brokers.

The organization, known as the National Co-operative company, was a capital authorized at $2,000,000, according to C. H. Gustafson, of Lincoln, president of the state union and organizer and president of the company, has 1,500 locals, 300 grain elevators, 50 general stores, three creameries and two flour mills, besides nearly a hundred shipping associations.

The union also has a livestock commission office in the yards of Omaha, Sioux City, St. Joseph and Denver, and a big wholesale exchange, in Omaha that carries everything from farm implements to groceries to supply its retail stores.

The corporation, Mr. Gustafson said, expects soon to build or lease a big terminal elevator in Lincoln or Omaha and negotiations are in progress for seats on the Lincoln and the Omaha grain exchange.

A regular commission business will be conducted for local companies participating. Mr. Gustafson said, and net profits will be divided on the basis of business done, after the company pays eight per cent dividends on its stock.

The corporation also plans to find a market for all farm products, to locate and build elevators and to give technical assistance in bookkeeping and accounting methods to participating members.

Chicago—Illinois post of the American Legion now number 669, according to a report of State Commander Milton J. Foreman, made to a committee at work on plans for the Illinois convention here Sept. 2 and 3. The gain in posts since Oct. 15, 1919, is 449.

Membership in the Legion in Illinois is 60,711, which represents a gain in the same period upward of 45,000.

A plan of redistricting the state according to congressional districts has been brought forward by the state rules committee for presentation to the convention.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES IN CHICAGO DECREASE

Chicago.—Chicago's building boom, which city planning officials has estimated would add under normal conditions more than $150,000,000 worth of new buildings and residences to the city during 1920, is not coming up to expectations. High cost and scarcity of materials, stringency of money, scarcity and cost of labor, the general situation and anticipated competition in the future with buildings put up at normal prices are among the reasons given.

Records show that there is a decrease in building permits now being issued over what were issued in the same months a year ago. There is, however, an increase in the number of permits issued each month this year over the previous month, but this increase, it is said, is not nearly so large as was expected.

Permits for apartment buildings show the greatest decrease over a year ago, despite what is termed an acute housing shortage in Chicago. Only six such permits were issued in July, 1920, compared with 57 in July, 1919. Total permits last month were 253 against 605 a year ago. Although fewer buildings are being erected, there is said to be a comparatively small decrease in the cost, buildings started in July, 1919, costing $7,714,700 and those in July, 1920 $6,693,300.

Chicago.—Demand for private rooms, with sunshine and hot and cold running water, has supplanted that for a dime "flop" among wayfaring working men since the country went dry, according to the observations of the Salvation Army.

Lieutenant Colonel Emil Marcussen, head of the industrial department of the Army for the states west of the Mississippi, said recently:

"The day of the dormitory, or, more accurately, the 'flop house' has passed. The kind of men who used to come to us seeking free beds or glad to get them for a dime, now ask for private rooms. Since prohibition became effective, I have closed several of our working men's hotels, including one in Chicago and another in Kansas City.

"There is a real need for good, modern hotels for men at reasonable prices, and those which we have are run along such lines. Our 'Working Men's Palace' in Chicago has 571 beds. Three years ago, we would have found ten or twelve men in the palace with bank accounts. Last month, there were 312 men in that hotel who carried bank books.

"In the old days, on cleaning out the dormitories where the transients slept we would find many empty bottles on the floor. Now it is very seldom that a bottle shows up. The story is the same in every city, from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

"As for the industrial homes, they used to contain many young men who ceased to be producers, and who had to be made over, sometimes by a long and painful taking process, into good citizens and wage earners. Today there is hardly an able-bodied man in any industrial home in the United States.

"The men who are there are nearly all permanently disabled to some degree, or they are convalescents from hospitals who are unable to do an ordinary day's work. These men are not only able to take care of themselves, but even to save a little from their earnings.

"There is room in every industrial home. The Chicago home is not half full. That is why the Salvation Army is able this year, through its home service program, to extend an offer of the facilities of these homes to every small community in the west."

UNUSUAL RAIN.
The rain which fell the latter part of the past week was wonderfully irregular. About Buckhorn, the Point and Markham they had hardly any. A few miles east of the city there was little. Pisgah, Woodson, Alexander and several other localities fared finely. Here in town the downpour in all was quite abundant. In parts of Sangamon county the dust was hardly laid down while north and east of Springfield the rain was copious.

Announcement

The profession of the undertaker, in many respects, is unlike that of any other, but like that of some others in that the first essential is to possess a thorough knowledge of his duties and to be capable, kindly and sympathetic in his work. Perhaps in no other service is the need of these qualities so apparent.

Unlike any other profession, there is no looking around or comparison of prices when suddenly the undertaker's service is needed. When death calls he is summoned and placed in charge. To him is entrusted the remains of a loved one to be prepared for final rest.

It is the desire of every person at such a time to have done everything in human power to show love and respect for the departed—it also is a duty.

Death is a topic almost universally shunned, yet it is a condition that each must face and in many ways make preparations for.

It has been considered unethical for an undertaker to state through the medium of the press his qualifications for the final service that must be given once to each.

In making these few comments my object only is to call attention to the following facts:

FIRST—I have moved; my new funeral parlor is located at 226 West State street. New and modern equipment has been installed, with chapel in connection—everything is modern, except my charges. (No extra charge for use of chapel.)

SECOND—It will be my constant thought to afford a service second to none at the lowest possible cost—it is my desire to reduce rather than to add to costs, and I now am in a position to do so.

THIRD—That I am able to do the things promised is due to sixteen years of careful study and practical experience. The confidence placed in me in the past has been a great inspiration, and a stimulus to more capable endeavor. To render a care and attention that will leave nothing undone, or to be criticised, or to prompt the wish that certain things had been differently arranged. To show a sincere, thoughtful and kindly attention under all circumstances.

GALVESTON SCENE OF UNIQUE LEGAL BATTLE

Attorney for Deposed City Commission Appears at Hearing in City's Suit to Enjoin Enforcement of Martial Law.

(By The Associated Press.) GALVESTON, Texas.—Galveston, birthplace of the commission form of government, this morning became the scene of a legal battle unique in Texas annals when Frank S. Anderson, city attorney, acting on behalf of its deposed city commission, appeared before Judge Robert G. Street, of the Forty Sixth district court, in the preliminary hearing of the city's suit to enjoin the enforcement of martial law.

The defendants Governor W. P. Hobby, Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters, and "every officer and private on duty in Galveston" were represented by a distinguished array of legal talent from the attorney-general's office in Austin. The coastwise longshoremen's strike, out of which grew conditions leading up to the declaration of martial law, June 7, was called early in March. The improvement of working conditions and to be placed on a parity with deep-sea longshoremen. After several attempts at negotiations, the walkout settled down to a test of strength.

The petition filed by the city on behalf of four city commissioners, A. P. Norman, J. C. Purcell, J. H. Germand, and George E. Robertson, charges that the "acts and conduct of the defendants were in pursuance of an illegal and unlawful conspiracy, entered into between said defendants and certain other persons whose names are at present unknown to these plaintiffs, to intimidate and coerce the citizenship of Galveston and bring about the institution of what is known as the "open shop."

Mayor H. O. Sapington the fifth member of the board of city commissioners, was not a party to the suit.

General Wolters' first order upon occupation of the city, the petition says, prohibited the carrying of arms, the sale of ammunition or the congregating of citizens upon the streets. This order, along with various other orders emanating from military headquarters, the petition declares, "is wholly void and of no effect."

In denying Governor Hobby's statement regarding alleged "riots, insurrections and breaches of the peace," the petition says: "The plaintiffs allege that no riots, insurrections or breaches of the peace occurred previous to the invasion of Galveston," and therefore the sending of troops here for purpose of protecting non-union dockworkers, was wholly unnecessary and an insult to the citizenship of this city."

Referring to the governor's executive order of July 15, which suspended the entire police and detective forces and the recorder of the corporation court, and partially suspended the mayor, city attorney and board of city commissioners, for alleged failure, refusal and neglect to enforce the laws of the city, the petition states "since no riot or insurrection occurred, none could be suppressed or put down—and no one could be apprehended for participation therein."

Governor Hobby's charge that the city authorities "not only failed to render aid and assistance to Brigadier General Wolters, but by their acts and words aided and encouraged the lawless element of the city," is emphatically denied, the petition asserting that the city had endeavored in every way to cooperate with the military authorities.

Considerable interest was manifested today in the expected rejoinder by the attorney-general's office. That the port of Galveston, considered as a public utility, was as much the property of the state at large as it was of those residing here, was expected to be one of the arguments advanced by the state.

Demand for Private Rooms Has Supplanted That for Dime "Flop" Among Wayfaring Men Since Country Went Dry, is Statement of Salvation Army.

Chicago.—Demand for private rooms, with sunshine and hot and cold running water, has supplanted that for a dime "flop" among wayfaring working men since the country went dry, according to the observations of the Salvation Army.

Lieutenant Colonel Emil Marcussen, head of the industrial department of the Army for the states west of the Mississippi, said recently:

"The day of the dormitory, or, more accurately, the 'flop house' has passed. The kind of men who used to come to us seeking free beds or glad to get them for a dime, now ask for private rooms. Since prohibition became effective, I have closed several of our working men's hotels, including one in Chicago and another in Kansas City.

"There is a real need for good, modern hotels for men at reasonable prices, and those which we have are run along such lines. Our Working Men's Palace in Chicago has 571 beds. Three years ago, we would have found ten or twelve men in the palace with bank accounts. Last month, there were 312 men in that hotel who carried bank books.

"In the old days, on cleaning out the dormitories where the transients slept we would find many empty bottles on the floor. Now it is very seldom that a bottle shows up. The story is the same in every city, from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

"As for the industrial homes, they used to contain many young men who ceased to be producers, and who had to be made over, sometimes by a long and painful taking process, into good citizens and wage earners. Today there is hardly an able-bodied man in any industrial home in the United States.

"The men who are there are nearly all permanently disabled to some degree, or they are convalescents from hospitals who are unable to do an ordinary day's work. These men are not only able to take care of themselves, but even to save a little from their earnings.

"There is room in every industrial home. The Chicago home is not half full. That is why the Salvation Army is able this year, through its home service program, to extend an offer of the facilities of these homes to every small community in the west."

UNUSUAL RAIN.

The rain which fell the latter part of the past week was wonderfully irregular. About Buckhorn, the Point and Markham they had hardly any. A few miles east of the city there was little. In parts of Sangamon county the dust was hardly laid down while north and east of Springfield the rain was copious.

NEBRASKA FARMERS
PLAN TO CO-OPERATE

Largest Co-operative Organization of Farmers in U. S. Just Formed at Lincoln, Nebr.—To Conduct Regular Commission Business.

Lincoln, Nebr.—What is said to be the largest co-operative organization of farmers in the United States has just been formed here. It will market the grain of the 10,000 members of the Nebraska Farmers' Union and eliminate middlemen and brokers.

The organization, known as the National Co-operative company, has a capital authorized at $2,000,000, according to C. H. Gustafson, of Lincoln, president of the state union and organizer and president of the company, has 1,500 locals, 300 grain elevators, 50 general stores, three creameries and two meat mills, besides nearly a hundred shipping associations.

The union also has a livestock commission office in the yards of Omaha, Sioux City, St. Joseph and Denver, and a big wholesale exchange, in Omaha that carries everything from farm implements to groceries to supply its retail stores.

The corporation, Mr. Gustafson said, expects soon to build or lease a big terminal elevator in Lincoln or Omaha and negotiations are in progress for seats on the Lincoln and the Omaha grain exchange.

A regular commission business will be conducted for local companies participating. Mr. Gustafson said, and net profits will be pro-rated on the basis of business done, after the company pays eight per cent dividends on its stock.

The corporation also plans to find a market for all farm products, to locate and build elevators and to give technical assistance in bookkeeping and accounting methods to participating members.

Membership in the Legion in Illinois is 60,711, which represents a gain in the same period upward of 45,000.

A plan of redistricting the state according to congressional districts has been brought forward by the state rules committee for presentation to the convention.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES
IN CHICAGO DECREASE

Chicago.—Chicago's building boom, which city planning officials has estimated would add under normal conditions more than $150,000,000 worth of new buildings and residences to the city during 1920, is not coming up to expectations. High cost and scarcity of materials, stringency of money, scarcity and cost of labor, the general situation and anticipated competition in the future with buildings put up at normal prices are among the reasons given.

Records show that there is a decrease in building permits now being issued over what were issued in the same months a year ago. There is, however, an increase in the number of permits issued each month this year over the previous month, but this increase, it is said, is not nearly so large as was expected.

Permits for apartment buildings show the greatest decrease over a year ago, despite what is termed an acute housing shortage in Chicago. Only six such permits were issued in July, 1920, compared with 57 in July, 1919. Total permits last month were 253 against 606 a year ago. Although fewer buildings are being erected, there is said to be a comparatively small decrease in the cost, buildings started in July, 1919, costing $7,714,700 and those in July, 1920 $6,69,300.

Announcement

The profession of the undertaker, in many respects, is unlike that of any other, but like that of some others in that the first essential is to possess a thorough knowledge of his duties and to be capable, kindly and sympathetic in his work. Perhaps in no other service is the need of these qualities so apparent.

Unlike any other profession, there is no looking around or comparison of prices when suddenly the undertaker's service is needed. When death calls he is summoned and placed in charge. To him is entrusted the remains of a loved one to be prepared for final rest.

It is the desire of every person at such a time to have done everything in human power to show love and respect for the departed—it also is a duty.

Death is a topic almost universally shunned, yet it is a condition that each must face and in many ways make preparations for.

It has been considered unethical for an undertaker to state through the medium of the press his qualifications for the final service that must be given once to each.

In making these few comments my object only is to call attention to the following facts:

FIRST—I have moved; my new funeral parlor is located at 226 West State street. New and modern equipment has been installed, with chapel in connection—everything is modern, except my charges. (No extra charge for use of chapel.)

SECOND—It will be my constant thought to afford a service second to none at the lowest possible cost—it is my desire to reduce rather than to add to costs, and I now am in a position to do so.

THIRD—That I am able to do the things promised is due to sixteen years of careful study and practical experience. The confidence placed in me in the past has been a great inspiration, and a stimulus to more capable endeavor. To render a care and attention that will leave nothing undone, or to be criticised, or to prompt the wish that certain things had been differently arranged. To show a sincere, thoughtful and kindly attention under all circumstances.

SERVICE RESUMED ON STREET RAILWAY

Motormen Quit at Noon Saturday But Returned to Jobs at Eight P. M.—Wage Increase Will Be Recommended By Supt. Gray.

Jacksonville was without street car service from 12 o'clock noon Saturday until 8 o'clock at night. The motormen on all cars quit work at the noon hour because they were dissatisfied about wages and thought that a satisfactory understanding would be more quickly reached if service was suspended.

It was not until late in the afternoon that employees and Supt. Gray held a conference. Then when such a conference was held it quickly developed that the men had not thoroughly understood Supt. Gray's position. He told them at this conference that he did not believe the wages now paid are sufficient, that he would recommend to the general manager an increase and that whatever increase is agreed upon shall be retroactive to August 1.

Mr. Gray made it plain there could be no decision to the matter until Mr. Chubbuck, chief executive of the Illinois Traction system, returns to Peoria this week. Mr. Chubbuck has been away from his office for two or three weeks and Mr. Gray has been unable to confer with him relative to a number of unsettled matters in relation to the Jacksonville utilities.

It seems that the employees of the Jacksonville Railway Co. had sent word thru Mr. Ticknor, superintendent of the railway lines, that they did not feel the wages paid were adequate for present conditions, and that an increase should be paid. The superintendent made such a statement to Mr. Gray a number of days ago in an informal conversation. At that time Mr. Gray indicated his entire willingness to submit the matter to Mr. Chubbuck at the earliest possible moment. It was because of failure to understand the attitude of the local company management that the walk-out occurred.

There are from nine to twelve regular car men in the employ of the company and a number of them have been in the service for a long period of years. The wage scale has been $3 a day and the hours vary from 11 to 11½.

As already indicated, it is the expectation that before the present week is over that Mr. Chubbuck will be able to give his attention to the local situation.

COURT HOUSE LOT CASE HEARING

Judge Norman Jones Took Injunction Proceedings Under Advisement Until November Term of Court.

In Carrollton Saturday Judge Norman L. Jones heard the petition for the injunction to prevent Marion Meadows from erecting a building on the court house lot. Several weeks ago the board of county commissioners entered into a lease with Meadows providing that he should have the right to erect a building on the lot just west of the court house. After work was begun on the building George P. Brown, thru his attorney J. O. Priest, brought a suit for injunction and a temporary writ was granted by Henry English as master in chancery.

Yesterday Judge Jones had the hearing but rendered no decision taking the case under advisement until the second Monday in November, when the circuit court will open here. Those in attendance at the hearing in Carrollton were: George P. Brown, J. O. Priest, his attorney, George Wheeler of the county board, State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson and Joseph DeGovea.

John A. Rawlings of Bartlesville, Okla., accompanied by his son, Tawson, is here for a few days' visit with relatives. Mr. Rawlings is in the gas and oil business and prospering greatly. Since he came to Bartlesville eight years ago the city has increased in population from 7,500 to 22,000. The office building of the Empire Gas Co. is one of the largest structures that has been erected in recent years. While the growth of Bartlesville has not been anything like that of Tulsa, the increase has been of a kind very gratifying to those people who were there a few years ago, because the increase in population has naturally meant an upward movement of property values.

CARNIVAL DREW GREAT ATTENDANCE

American Legion Will Continue Joyous Event Thru Monday and Tuesday—Len Small's Hampshire Brought Fine Return—New Berlin Man a New Car Owner.

The weather was not favorable Saturday night but that fact did not prevent a great throng from assembling at the H. Z. Auto Inn for the American Legion carnival. The patronage of the various booths was liberal and people seemed to thoroughly enjoy the various attractions.

Announcement was made that the carnival will continue thru Monday and Tuesday nights because of the inability of many people in the farming community to attend either Friday or Saturday. Muddy roads kept many people away.

The great interest centered about the Chevrolet car. The man who held the lucky number was C. V. Treace of New Berlin. The Hampshire hog presented to the Legion by Len Small of Kankakee was auctioned off and brought a total of more than $156. J. L. Henry and C. Justus Wright were the auctioneers and the hog was sold and repurchased eight times. The first purchaser was J. H. Cain, who paid $25. The second sale was to F. H. Rowe on a bid of $25. Then came Marcus Hulett with $17.50; A. D. Arnold, $12.50; Marcus Hulett, $12.50; J. L. Henry, $12.50; H. P. Samuell, $10; Robert Clayton, $11.

The upright piano, also given to the Legion, brought $60.

A great many tickets for the automobile had been issued. William Newman, Jr., announced that the stubs of the tickets had been retained and placed in a heavy canvas bag which was turned over to a committee including Thomas Duffner, Henry Frisch and J. W. Walton. The members of the committee emptied the tickets from the bag into a keg. Then all were thoroughly mixed. It was announced by Mr. Duffner that a child chosen from the assembly would be blindfolded and draw fourteen tickets, one at a time, from the keg, the fourteenth ticket to decide the contest. Little Lucille O'Donnell was blindfolded and the fourteenth ticket was that on which the name of C. V. Treace appeared.

The fifteenth ticket had been drawn in the event that the owner of the first ticket could not be found. The fifteenth ticket was 174 and the name Everett Mann. The car is a Chevrolet 490 painted in azure blue.

As already indicated, the carnival will continue thru Monday and Tuesday nights and the attendance will no doubt again be large.

In response to many requests from residents of the county the American Legion will continue the carnival Monday and Tuesday at the H. Z. Auto Inn.

SERVICE RESUMED ON STREET RAILWAY

Motormen Quit at Noon Saturday But Returned to Jobs at Eight P. M.—Wage Increase Will Be Recommended By Supt. Gray.

Jacksonville was without street car service from 12 o'clock noon Saturday until 8 o'clock at night. The motormen on all cars quit work at the noon hour because they were dissatisfied about wages and thought that a satisfactory understanding would be more quickly reached if service was suspended.

It was not until late in the afternoon that employees and Supt. Gray held a conference. Then when such a conference was held it quickly developed that the men had not thoroughly understood Supt. Gray's position. He told them at this conference that he did not believe the wages now paid are sufficient, that he would recommend to the general manager an increase and that whatever increase is agreed upon shall be retroactive to August 1.

Mr. Gray made it plain there could be no decision to the matter until Mr. Chubbuck, chief executive of the Illinois Traction system, returns to Peoria this week. Mr. Chubbuck has been away from his office for two or three weeks and Mr. Gray has been unable to confer with him relative to a number of unsettled matters in relation to the Jacksonville utilities.

It seems that the employees of the Jacksonville Railway Co. had sent word thru Mr. Ticknor, superintendent of the railway lines, that they did not feel the wages paid were adequate for present conditions, and that an increase should be paid. The superintendent made such a statement to Mr. Gray a number of days ago in an informal conversation. At that time Mr. Gray indicated his entire willingness to submit the matter to Mr. Chubbuck at the earliest possible moment. It was because of failure to understand the attitude of the local company management that the walk-out occurred.

There are from nine to twelve regular car men in the employ of the company and a number of them have been in the service for a long period of years. The wage scale has been $3 a day and the hours vary from 11 to 11 1/2.

As already indicated, it is the expectation that before the present week is over that Mr. Chubbuck will be able to give his attention to the local situation.

COURT HOUSE LOT CASE HEARING

Judge Norman Jones Took Injunction Proceedings Under Adversement Until November Term of Court.

In Carrollton Saturday Judge Norman L. Jones heard the petition for the injunction to prevent Marion Meadows from erecting a building on the court house lot. Several weeks ago the board of county commissioners entered into a lease with Meadows providing that he should have the right to erect a building on the lot just west of the court house. After work was begun on the building George P. Brown, thru his attorney J. O. Priest, brought a suit for injunction and a temporary writ was granted by Henry English as master in chancery.

Yesterday Judge Jones had the hearing but rendered no decision taking the case under advisement until the second Monday in November, when the circuit court will open here. Those in attendance at the hearing in Carrollton were: George P. Brown, J. O. Priest, his attorney, George Wheeler of the county board, State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson and Joseph DeGovera.

U. C. T. Picnic.

The picnic of the United Commercial Travelers at Nichols park, yesterday afternoon was the largest picnic that the U. C. T. has held in several years. In spite of the threatening weather and the street car strike which kept a few from attending, the afternoon was spent in a ball game in which Lavery's team defeated Barton's team by a score of 14 to 4, and other athletic events in which every one took part. Ice cream cones and lemonade were served all afternoon, and at 5:30 a big picnic supper was served.

VISITOR FROM OKLAHOMA

John A. Rawlings of Bartlesville, Okla., accompanied by his son, Lawson, is here for a few days' visit with relatives. Mr. Rawlings is in the gas and oil business and is prospering at his home in the southwest. Since he went to Bartlesville eight years ago the city has increased in population from 7,500 to 22,000.

The office building of the Empire Gas Co. is one of the largest structures that has been erected in recent years. While the growth of Bartlesville has not been anything like that of Tulsa, the increase has been of a kind very gratifying to those people who were there a few years ago, because the increase in population has naturally meant an upward movement of property values.

CARNIVAL DREW GREAT ATTENDANCE

American Legion Will Continue Joyous Event Thru Monday and Tuesday—Len Small's Hampshire Brought Fine Return—New Berlin Man a New Car Owner.

The weather was not favorable Saturday night but that fact did not prevent a great throng from assembling at the H. Z. Auto Inn for the American Legion carnival. The patronage of the various booths was liberal and people seemed to thoroughly enjoy the various attractions.

Announcement was made that the carnival will continue thru Monday and Tuesday nights because of the inability of many people in the farming community to attend either Friday or Saturday. Muddy roads kept many people away.

The great interest centered about the Chevrolet car. The man who held the lucky number was C. V. Treace of New Berlin. The Hampshire hog presented to the Legion by Len Small of Kankakee was auctioned off and brought a total of more than $156. J. L. Henry and C. Justus Wright were the auctioneers and the hog was sold and repurchased eight times. The first purchaser was J. H. Cain, who paid $25. The second sale was to F. H. Rowe on a bid of $25. Then came Marcus Hulst, with $17.50; A. D. Arnold, $12.50; Marcus Hulst, $12.50; J. L. Henry, $12.50; H. P. Samuel, $10; Robert Clayton, $11.

The upright piano, also given to the Legion, brought $60.

A great many tickets for the automobile had been issued. William Newman, Jr., announced that the stubs of the tickets had been retained and placed in a heavy canvas bag which was turned over to a committee including Thomas Duffner, Henry Frick and J. W. Walton. The members of the committee emptied the tickets from the bag into a keg. Then all were thoroughly mixed. It was announced by Mr. Duffner that a child chosen from the assembly would be blindfolded and draw fourteen tickets, one at a time, from the keg, the fourteenth ticket to decide the contest. Little Lucille O'Donnell was blindfolded and the fourteenth ticket was that on which the name of C. V. Treace appeared.

The fifteenth ticket had been drawn in the event that the owner of the first ticket could not be found. The fifteenth ticket was 174 and the name Everett Mann. The car is a Chevrolet 490 painted in azure blue.

As already indicated, the carnival will continue thru Monday and Tuesday nights and the attendance will no doubt again be large.

In response to many requests from residents of the county the American Legion will continue the carnival Monday and Tuesday at the H. Z. Auto Inn.

PROMINENT EASTERNER VISITS WHITE HALL

R. S. Kellogg Returns to East Africa After Visit in Greene County—Band Has Part in Greenfield Homecoming Program.

White Hall, Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kellogg and two children departed early this morning on their return to New York City, where Mr. Kellogg has offices as secretary of the newspaper service bureau of the American Paper and Pulp Association, which has a Canadian membership of 45 per cent. Mr. Kellogg has just completed a tour of six weeks in Virginia, New York, Kansas and other states, he being on the program of a series of meetings of publishers, concluding the tour with a visit to the paper mills in Canada, accompanied by his wife on the latter part of his rounds, the children remaining here during the six weeks.

Mr. Kellogg has evidence to show that there is no shortage in print paper so far as production is concerned and that the shortage is the result of the tremendous consumption. While the production of news print in the United States has remained practically normal since 1909, there being produced 1,176,000 tons in 1909 and 1,375,000 tons in 1919, the increased production in Canada has shown a steady decline with the taking off of the tariff on news print from Canada.

Canadian News Print
In 1909 the production of news print in Canada was 150,000 tons and by 1919 it had increased to 808,000 tons, the removal of the tariff giving a tremendous impetus to the print paper industry in Canada, as shown by these figures. News print is made absolutely from wood, and on this point Mr. Kellogg's attention was called to the great quantity of straw and corn stalks that go to waste in a locality such as White Hall, to which he stated that corn stalks have been demonstrated to produce a good grade of paper, and that straw is valuable in the production of strawboard, but that the expense of handling and shipping makes it unprofitable to be marketed at the paper mills. The local crop reporting service brought up this point a year ago in connection with governmental reports in an effort to find some use for the waste straw, but nothing came of it, and Mr. Kellogg declares that the material is far more valuable as a fertilizer right here at home than it is to be shipped out and made into strawboard.

Mr. Kellogg is an international figure as a forester and conservationist. He spent nine years in the government service under Gifford Pinchot during the conservation work of the Roosevelt administration, and stood second only to Mr. Pinchot in the Roosevelt program. Mr. Kellogg is preparing a conservation bill for introduction in the next congress that is entirely at variance with Mr. Pinchot's proposed bill, in that Mr. Pinchot has become so radical as to demand government ownership of all the timber resources, while that of Mr. Kellogg is for private ownership and utilization.

Editor of News Print Paper
Mr. Kellogg edits a monthly publication called "The News Print Service Bureau," located at No. 18 East 41st Street, New York City. He is a regular human dynamo of intelligent action. The recently organized White Hall band made a most successful visit to Greenfield Thursday to take part in the home coming festival.

activities, this being the first engagement of the new organization. The result is that the band is launching out with new life and vigor, with prospects of giving White Hall once more the benefit of the advertising and influence that accrues with a successful band organization that comes in no other way.

The new band started early in the spring by a bunch of aspiring young talent, and Hal W. Galhaly was interested in rounding up sufficient numbers of the old organization to give it a foothold. Harry C. Johnson was made leader, and a few weeks ago T. J. Grant, the veteran band leader, gave it a further boost by giving a great deal of time as instructor. The instrumentation stands as follows: Cornets, Harry C. Johnson, Merle Mackey, Hugh Greer, Louis Lowenstein, Don Carrigan; clarinet, Warren Lorton; alto, Hal W. Galhaly, Arthur Moore, Byron Vermillion; trombones, Ab Edwards, Virgil Bowen; baritone, Bert Barrow; tuba, Fred Nevius; drums, Emmitt Spangenberg and John Bigham.

The members are in to win, and say that they will make reasonable sacrifices to make it a creditable band. It is proposed to give a series of three open-air concerts which they hope may induce action to continue the concert on some sort of a revenue basis. Some of the members are business men, and they are entirely willing to devote a day now and then to engagements, their great desire being to make provision for local events and open air band concerts.

The express companies have been allowed to increase their rates twelve and one-half per cent. This will net over 35 million dollars. However, the wage board recently allowed the express company employees an increase that will total $45,000,000. So the company will ask for further increase to meet this and the citizens who have express packages to send will pay the bill. "Tis a gay life!"

We noted a headline in our paper which said "Fire Department Hits Street Car." It must have been some blow when a whole department hits anything.

Sorry but we haven't time to read Bill Thompson's letter to Lowden and the numerous other campaign articles we are getting at the present time.

However, if all the campaign notices of the candidates are true we have some mighty fine men running this time.

The Democrats in Illinois seem to be well pleased with the manner in which Small and Oglesby are conducting the Democratic campaign.

To the innocent bystander it looks like they are trying to deliver the state into the hands of the Democrats.

At the rate whiskey is being confiscated and stolen the country promises to soon be really dry.

HERO Pipeless Furnace CUTS DOWN DOCTOR BILLS

Stoves are very unhealthy—they burn up the oxygen in the air; they dry out the air so that the body is open to disease attacks. If volumes of pure-washed-moist air are circulating through the house everyone will be healthier.

Stoves heat some rooms too hot and leave others cold. Delicate people going from one to another catch cold—have the influenza.

PIPELESS HERO FURNACES

SAVE FUEL—heat the house with only one fire. Wash and add moisture to the air.

HEAT THE WHOLE HOUSE—Every room is evenly heated—even the bed rooms. Floors are warm for the children, too.

NO DIRT—NO DUST—Hero Furnaces take all dust—dirt—ashes and coal to the basement where they belong. Save hours of drudgery for your wife.

BURN ANY FUEL—Soft coal—wood—hard coal—coals, any one will do in the HERO.

You will save enough in coal bills and doctor bills to pay for a Hero Pipeless Furnace in a short time. Installed in one day—no cutting of walls.

PROMINENT EASTERNER VISITS WHITE HALL

R. S. Kellogg Returns to East Africa After Visit in Greene County—Band Has Part in Greenfield Homecoming Program.

White Hall, Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kellogg and two children departed early this morning on their return to New York City, where Mr. Kellogg has offices as secretary of the newspaper office bureau of the American Paper and Pulp association, which has a Canadian membership of 45 per cent. Mr. Kellogg has just completed a tour of six weeks in Virginia, New York, Kansas and other states, he being on the program of a string of meetings of publishers, concluding the tour with a visit to the paper mills in Canada, accompanied by his wife on the latter part of his rounds, the children remaining here during the six weeks.

Mr. Kellogg has evidence to show that there is no shortage in print paper so far as production is concerned and that the shortage is the result of the tremendous consumption. While the production of news print in the United States since 1909, there being produced 1,176,000 tons in 1909 and 1,375,000 tons in 1919, the increased production in Canada has shown a steady incline with the taking off of the tariff on news print from Canada.

Canadian News Print
 In 1909 the production of news print in Canada was 150,000 tons and by 1919 it had increased to 808,000 tons, the removal of the tariff giving a tremendous impetus to the print paper industry in Canada, as shown by these figures. News print is made absolutely from wood, and on this point Mr. Kellogg's attention was called to the great quantity of straw and corn stalks that go to waste in a locality such as White Hall, to which he stated that corn stalks have been demonstrated to produce a good grade of paper, and that straw is valuable in the production of strawboard, but that the expense of handling and shipping makes it unprofitable to be marketed at the paper mills. The local crop reporting service brought up this point a year ago in connection with governmental reports in an effort to find some use for the waste straw, but nothing came of it, and Mr. Kellogg declares that the material is far more valuable as a fertilizer right here at home than it is to be shipped out and made into strawboard.

Mr. Kellogg is an international figure as a forester and conservationist. He spent nine years in the government service under Gifford Pinchot during the conservation work of the Roosevelt administration, and stood second only to Mr. Pinchot in the Roosevelt program. Mr. Kellogg is preparing a conservation bill for introduction in the next congress that is entirely at variance with Mr. Pinchot's proposed bill, in that Mr. Pinchot has become so radical as to demand government ownership of all of the timber resources, while that of Mr. Kellogg is for private ownership and utilization.

Editor of News Print Paper
 Mr. Kellogg edits a monthly publication called "The News Print Service Bureau," located at No. 18 East 41st Street, New York City. He is a regular human dynamo of intelligent action. The recently organized White Hall band made a most successful visit to Greenfield Thursday to take part in the home coming festival.

activities, this being the first engagement of the new organization. The result is that the band is launching out with new life and vigor, with prospects of giving White Hall once more the benefit of the advertising and influence that accrues with a successful band organization that comes in no other way.

The new band started early in the spring by a bunch of aspiring young talent, and Hal W. Galahy was interested in rounding up sufficient numbers of the old organization to give it a foothold. Harry C. Johnson was made leader, and a few weeks ago T. J. Grant, the veteran band leader, gave it a further boost by giving a great deal of time as instructor. The instrumentation stands as follows: Cornets, Harry C. Johnson, Merle Mackey, Hugh Greer, Louis Lowenstein, Don Carrigan; clarinet, Warren Lorton; alto, Hal W. Galahy, Arthur Moore, Byron Vermillion; trombones, Ab Edwards, Virgil Bowen; baritone, Bert Barrow; tuba, Ferd Nevius; drums, Emmitt Spangenberg and John Bighan.

The members are in to win, and say that they will make reasonable sacrifices to make it a creditable band. It is proposed to give a series of three open-air concerts which they hope may induce action to continue the concerts on some sort of a revenue basis. Some of the members are business men, and they are fully willing to devote a day now and then to engagements, their great desire being to make provision for local events and open air band concerts.

However, the wage board recently allowed the express company employees an increase that will total $45,000,000. Farm Bureau Notes

Limestone Situation.
This is decidedly critical for the men who want to seed alfalfa this month. We have tried to get a car for one Morgan county farmer of two different companies and have been informed that we cannot expect a shipment before six weeks. Further, the increase in freight rates will result in an increase in the delivered price in this county of 30 to 35 cents per ton. We have very little hopes of getting limestone for August delivery at any price.

Pig Club News.
Last week the county agent saw the pigs drawn by James Robert Beavers of Moberry, Dwight E. Green northeast of the city, Orval Cox, Harold Hembrough, Russell Johnson, Rea Gibson, Clyde Hudson and Alfred E. Coe of the Asbury neighborhood. As a whole the members are getting along well with the pigs. If there is anything good in the line pig race, the club gets it. James Robert Beavers reports a gain of 43 pounds, in 30 days. Dwight E. Green will send his two Berkshire to the state fair along with the exhibit of John H. Eckel and Sons of Ardenville. The parents of the pig club members are encouraging them in a way that is decidedly commendable. Frequently only 60 percent of the number beginning a project of this sort are in at the finish but we hope to beat that record in Morgan county, with the support parents are giving us.

Trip to Urbana.
E. L. Dillon, teacher of agriculture at Waverly, went to the experiment station at Urbana, Tuesday with a party of boys and men from Waverly. It took slightly over six hours to make the run from Waverly. The trip was decidedly worth while. We were invited to make the run with other important business. We have it in mind to arrange a trip after chautauqua, and in the light of their experience would prefer to take 3 days for the trip. The farm bureau quarters in Sangamon and Macon counties and imbedded feeding plant at Decatur are worth seeing. Other features will arise to slow down both the going and coming. If we plan one day to go, one to return, an entire day at the University the trip will certainly be more pleasant than if we try to make the trip in two days. Plan to go with us in September.

Poultry Culling.
We expect to hold a number of demonstrations in various parts of the county in September. Last year we covered the county quite thoroughly and many people in the county can cull their flocks in a very satisfactory manner. We have repeatedly asserted that any person of ordinary intelligence who attends a demonstration and gets into the game for 20 or 30 minutes ought to cull a flock practically as well as an expert. At any rate we should be extremely disappointed to learn that those who attended these demonstrations last year are unable to cull their own flocks this season. D. T. Heimlich recently showed us directions for culling poultry recommended by the Illinois State Poultry Association. The whole process is stated in a brief way that ought to be understood easily by any one. This method of culling will be demonstrated at the State Fair August 25 and 26 and we hope to hear that many Morgan county poultry raisers were interested enough to attend.

A short time since Mrs. Libbie Martin of Seattle, Washington, visited her sisters, Mrs. George Guthrie and Mrs. Thomas Heaton of this city, and shortly after her return she and her sister, Mrs. Catherine Morrison, were taking a ride in a coal-burning steamer when a storm arose and the ship's compass failed to work. A dense fog prevailed and the captain utterly unable to locate their surroundings and for a time it looked as if the ship would go to pieces. Fortunately it kept afloat and when finally the fog lifted the captain was enabled to find where he was and it was ten miles out of the course and unpleasantly a rocky reef. They were wonderful relieved when they landed safely.

BIG CROP OF HAY FEVER JOKES

But Kentucky Man Says People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony Are Kidding Themselves.

Wouldn't Be Any Hay Fever If Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE percent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a person's Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

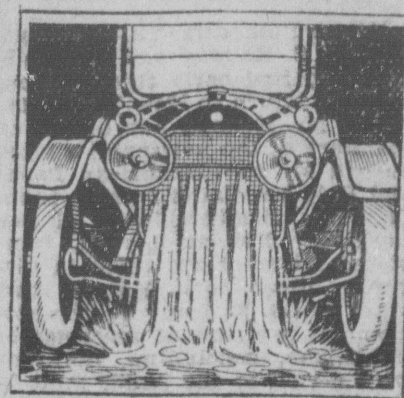

"The annual crop of Hay Fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get three-quarters of an ounce of Mantholized Arcline, and by just adding water that has been boiled, make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my Hay Fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear, and in cases where it does show up, is very mild and does not annoy."

"It's the same way with Rose Fever. The Better Class of Pharmacists who dispense Mantholized Arcline say that it will greatly modify any attack, even when taken three or four days after the attack begins."

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint, for up to the present time there has been little demand for this friendly medicine. Mantholized Arcline is now in the market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large stock.

When the Worker Loses

The spirit of efficiency permeates the business life of today to such an extent that the very pulse of commerce has experienced a quickening that is noticeable. Yet much of the benefit of efficient business methods is lost through the worker's inefficiency due to physical inefficiency.

A sick worker is a poor workman. He is a loss to himself in wages and a loss to his employer in production. Much sickness is caused not by work or physical unfitness, but rather through the waste of energy caused by faulty nerve action, which so weakens the system that the body becomes an easy victim of ailments and disease.

Big, successful, healthy business men know that to succeed to keep up with the strain and demands of the times, they must be fit. They must conserve every ounce of their energy and power. Many of them have found that they can best do this through because it corrects the cause of faulty nerve action and permits Nature to bring about the normal distribution of energy. Health and vigor usually follow. Chiropractic (Ki-Ro-Prak-Tic) is drugless. RULES GIVEN FOR POULTRY CULLING Practical Culling For Increased Production—Are Recommended by Illinois State Poultry Association.

Cooperating as we are with the University of Illinois and with the farm advisers of every county in the state and all breeders who desire help in getting maximum production out of poultry at the least possible cost, it is of the greatest importance that this work be done uniformly if we wish to attain the best possible results. As one flock carefully done, will leave an impression on the owner that is almost impossible to overcome.

We will take up in order a number of typical examples, just as they occur in an ordinary farm flock. We will suppose that the owner has the flock confined so they may be caught easily. The better birds as found may be released so as to remain on the place, while there should be an inclosure ready to receive the culls, so that they may be retained for experimental purposes or marketed as desired.

Operator is Ready For.
First hen—as soon as operator gets this hen in his hands, he sees that she is going light—just a bunch of feathers. She is at once rejected and owner instructed to kill and bury her, as she is not fit for food.

2d hen—an overgrown specimen broken down behind with fatty tissue. Send her to market.

3d hen—in fairly good flesh and good vitality, but an examination shows "cow horn" type of pelvic bones, very crooked and rigid. Send her to market as this is a breeding defect and her pullets would probably be as bad or worse.

4th hen—shows a long narrow head and beak, with thin shrunken shanks. Market her for lack of vitality.

5th hen—a hen with a good vitality and in good flesh and an examination shows that she is laying. However, her abdomen is covered with a thick layer of hard fat and her pelvic bones are very thick. She will not be a profit maker and should go.

6th hen—has the appearance of a good layer, bright eye, good flesh, soft abdomen, straight pelvic bones, but an examination shows her to have very small capacity 1 or 2 fingers). Market her as she has not room to assimilate enough food to produce eggs in profitable number.

7th hen—is one that possesses any physical deformity that would prevent her from obtaining a sufficient supply of food. Market her.

8th hen—we now come to the kind of hen that we want to keep—she is medium size, fairly good condition of flesh, bright eye, alert air, short well curved beak, broad head, stout, well turned shanks and short toes. She has a large abdomen, both wide and long, covered with thin pliable wrinkled skin that gives the entire abdomen the feeling of the milked-out udder of a cow. Her pelvic bones are straight, thin and well spread and she has the general air of health and well being. In fact, she is a jewel and if the hens of Illinois were all like her, we would increase the state's egg production 100 to 200 per cent.

It sometimes happens that the owner wants his flock divided into those that are laying and not laying at the time examination is made. This is not a practical way to cull as some of the best yearly layers may be thrown out and some of the poor producers might happen to be laying right at that time. However, if for any reason you wish to do this, it is very simply done by an examination of the vent alone. The vent of a laying hen is always large, flabby and moist. When she stops laying it becomes smaller, drier and dry.

Pigmentation of color tests are given last as they are of no value on white skinned varieties. However, they form a valuable index in the yellow skinned birds.

A laying fowl uses up the surplus fat from the skin and this loss of fat can readily be seen by the disappearance of the yellow color.

The vent loses its color first, then the eye lid, beak and shanks in the order named. Where all these sections are found faded you may be reasonably sure that the hen has been a heavy producer for at least four months.

In case the vent, eye lid and beak are found to be bleached, and the shanks retain their yellow color, the hen has been laying for about six weeks.

This yellow color comes back into these sections in the same order in which it left them, but much more rapidly. If the base of beak is yellow and the tip white, the hen has been taking a vacation or rest period.

Must Not Become Crank.
In culling do not allow yourself to become a crank or a one idea man, but form your opinion by a careful weighing and balancing of all the above features combined and do not attempt to apply these rules to immature pullets, as they are of practically no value until the bird has at least started to lay.

The Poultry Division of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry says:—

"Comparing standard bred poultry with mixed flocks, the standard bred is more productive of both eggs and meat—these products are of a better quality and yield a better profit."

This being true, it is your duty to advise every poultry owner and breeder with whom you come in contact to raise only standard bred poultry, so they can not only take some pride in their flocks, but also reap a better return in cold cash.

And for the purpose of organizing our poultry culling demonstrators into a compact working intelligent force, a school of instruction on poultry culling is ordered by the board of directors at the Illinois State Fair on August 25 and 26th at the poultry building. As a breeder and demonstrator we want you there for if we have a state wide culling campaign, as we hope to have, we will need every demonstrator we have, but the work must be done uniformly and right so we will look for you there on the above dates with any suggestions you may be able to have and have used that will be of benefit to the work in hand.

KENTUCKY MAKES WAR ON "PISTOL TOTERS"

Louisville, Ky.—Governor Edwin P. Morrow has declared war on "pistol toters," as Kentucky calls those who habitually carry firearms concealed. In a formal statement he characterized them as undesirable citizens, a menace to good order and public safety. Hereafter the Governor declared, persons convicted of carrying deadly weapons may not expect easy executive clemency, because, he said, no pardons will be forthcoming from his office. He called upon the courts to assist in saving the state from what he termed the "disgrace of its homicides," and urged them to faithfully execute the law which provides for jail sentences for the first offense and for the second disfranchisement for two years.

Enamelled Steel Markers to Be Placed at All Crossroads on Great Highway—Route is 3,223 Miles in Length.

(By The Associated Press.)
DETROIT, Mich.—Before next winter comes enamelled steel markers will have been placed at every confusing turn and crossroads on the Lincoln Highway from New York to San Francisco, making what is said to be the longest highway in the world with such guide marks, according to announcement from headquarters of the Lincoln Highway Association here.

The road from Omaha to San Francisco already has such markers and work of marking the highway from New York to Omaha now is in progress. The task should be completed some time in November, it is reported.

The Lincoln Highway is 3,223 miles long. It passes thru Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Canton, O., Fort Wayne and South Bend, Ind., Vinton, Ia., Omaha, Salt Lake City and Carson City, Nev., among other points.

The Highway never has been permanently marked between New York and Omaha. Travelers hitherto have been guided by painted markers stenciled on telegraph and telephone poles, but this method was found to be inadequate, as painted guidance is quickly obliterated.

Expense of marking the road from New York to Omaha is estimated at $20,000.

The signs are carried on motor trucks. Two University of Michigan students are going over the road and placing the markers.

NUMEROUS ENTRIES FOR BETTER BABIES EXHIBIT
Springfield, Ill.—More than four hundred babies from twenty or more counties in Illinois have been entered in the fifth annual better babies conference, which

The conference is under the direct supervision of Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, director of the state department of public health.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

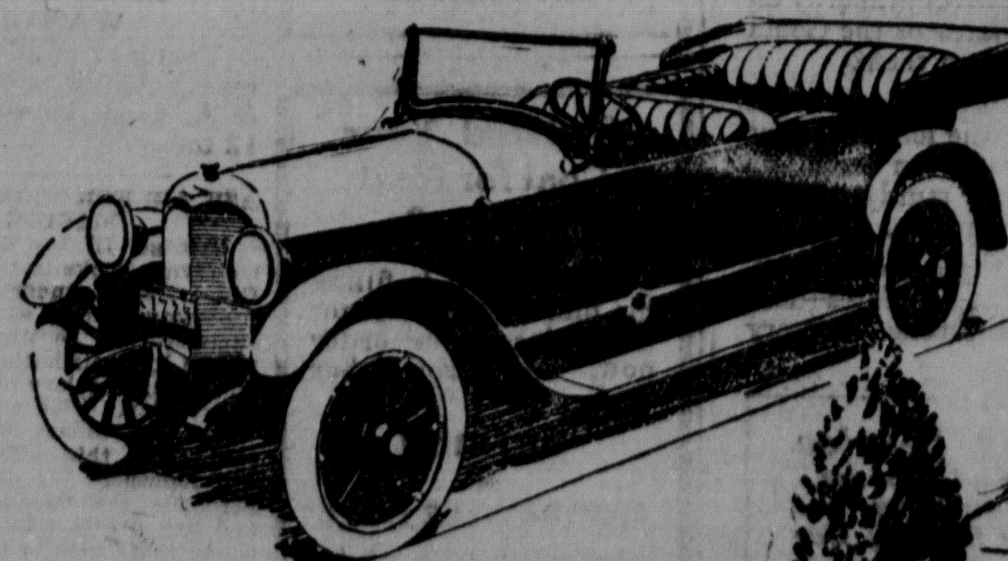

YOUR eyes alone will tell you that our new "Glenbrook" is one of the handsomest five-passenger cars that has ever been designed. But in order to really appreciate this model, you must take an actual demonstration on the road.

Then—and then only—will you understand what our engineers have accomplished in three years of patient experimental work and testing. Then—and then only—will you realize what giant strides have been made in motor and chassis development.

The "Glenbrook," you must remember, is a strictly modern car. It was developed during a period of world wide mechanical research and represents the last word in automotive science. It is actually and literally a motor car developed by the war.

Just what these new standards of engineering have accomplished will be quite evident in a single demonstration. It will prove a liberal education, we believe, if you will permit our dealer to arrange for an appointment.

PAIGE

YOUR eyes alone will tell you that our new "Glenbrook" is one of the handsomest five-passenger cars that has ever been designed. But in order to really appreciate this model, you must take an actual demonstration on the road.

Then—and then only—will you understand what our engineers have accomplished in three years of patient experimental work and testing. Then—and then only—will you realize what giant strides have been made in motor and chassis development.

The "Glenbrook," you must remember, is a strictly modern car. It was developed during a period of world wide mechanical research and represents the last word in automotive science. It is actually and literally a motor car developed by the war.

Just what these new standards of engineering have accomplished will be quite evident in a single demonstration. It will prove a liberal education, we believe, if you will permit our dealer to arrange for an appointment.

GREAT WATER FRONT IMPROVEMENT PLANNED

Greatest Water Front Improvement in Fifty Years Along Hudson River—Cost of Construction to Pay for Itself in Four Years.

New York.—The greatest water front improvement here in 50 years, involving the removal of 32 antiquated piers along the Hudson river, and the erection in their stead of 18 new and vastly larger piers of latest design, has been planned by Murray Hulbert, commissioner of docks, and approved by the Sinking Fund Commission. The improvement will cost $50,000,000 and will require 10 years to complete. Work is expected to start in the spring.

This with the proposed vehicular tunnel to New Jersey is expected to solve New York's west side dock problem. The new water front system is to consist of wide piers, slips and marginal streets, with warehouses and tracks where available in the rear.

"The cost of construction is expected to pay for itself in four years time," according to Deputy Dock Commissioner Michael Cosgrove. "A permanent sea wall has been built along the entire stretch, no rock will be encountered to make a depth of 40 feet and most of the real estate is owned by the city."

"These new piers will increase the pier storage area 50 per cent if they are made only one story," said Mr. Cosgrove. "But because of the high value of this waterfront it will be uneconomical to stop even at two stories. They will have the most modern appliances for rapid handling of freight, including electric cranes, helpers and hoists of all kinds."

"The present lower North River water front is just what it was in 1871. Its slips are so narrow that there is not room in them at once for started steamships. To afford relief the War Department has three times permitted the pier headlines to extend further outshore. The more these narrow piers were brought out, the worse the slips became, because boats have been continually growing bigger."

"The new plan," said President F. H. LaGuardia of the board of aldermen, "means that New York is going to have 18 piers from 950 to 1,025 feet in length in place of the 32 dilapidated structures which are a disgrace to the city. Between each pier there will be a maximum dockage space of 300 feet and a minimum of 275 feet. Two of the new piers will be 100 feet wide, seven 150 feet and nine 125 feet."

Along New York's 578 miles of waterfront the Dock Commission already has under way other projects under contracts amounting to $20,000,000.

Manchester, Ia.—Residents of this part of Iowa recently found the course of the old Ottumwa, Cedar Rapids and McGregor trail, changed overnight.

Meetings were held and finally delegations went to Cedar Rapids to see officers of the trail association. They said they had not ordered any changes and blamed an unknown sign painter. The sign painter, it was explained had been employed to remark the signs. His work was not satisfactory to some in McGregor and he was told to make it so. Instead he went back over the route. It was said, marking out some of the signs and pointing others into Minnesota as the "official route."

FIRE DEPARTMENTS TO ATTEND STATE FAIR

Fire Fighters of Various Illinois Cities to Be at Firemen's Association Tournament, Aug. 19 to 21.

Springfield, Ill.—Eighteen fire departments of cities in Illinois have entered the lists of the Illinois Firemen's Association Tournament to be held at the state fair here August 19, 20 and 21. Twelve of these teams will bring bands with them.

Their appearance will be one of the most unique and attractive features of the exposition. Among other departments of the state, the old Peoria Fire company No. 4, organized in 1858, will come with its old hand engine and trophies of bygone tournaments to try against younger teams for another honor.

Entry lists are in charge of Simon Kellermann, Jr., Edwardsville, who is director of the tournament. He has announced $2,500 in prizes. Enthusiasm among firemen over the state, he says, promises the best competition of the sort ever held in this state. To promote plans now going forward, Mr. Kellermann is publishing a weekly Tournament Bulletin, which is sent to all fire departments.

Among the cities to be represented are Jacksonville, Mt. Pleasant, Lincoln, Clinton, Collinsville and Decatur, whose teams will be accompanied by bands. Other teams will come from Joliet, Wilmington, Rockdale, Kankakee, Ladd, De Pue, Depton, Maroa, Granite City and Bloomington.

Beside the hose coupling and hook and ladder contests for the firemen, the tournament will provide a ladder climbing contest for women only. This is one of the ten feature contests promised.

ILLINOIS PURCHASES FIRST STATE HOUSE

Purchase of Old State House at Vandalia Recalls Incident in the Life of Abraham Lincoln.

Springfield, Ill.—Purchase by the State of Illinois of the old state house at Vandalia, Illinois' first state capitol, has recalled how Abraham Lincoln disappeared through a window there in 1839, broke a quorum and thus helped to bring about the removal of the state capital to Springfield. The state has bought the building from the City of Vandalia.

Lincoln at that time was a state representative. It is recorded in some histories that he jumped from the second story window of the house of representatives to escape being counted present. In so doing he broke a quorum and prevented the continuation of the capital at Vandalia. It was removed the same year to Springfield. Among some of the residents of Vandalia at that period Lincoln's disappearance was characterized as an act of "cussedness."

Vandalia's historic building comes back into possession of the state at a cost of $60,000. The transaction was completed by Assistant Director Thomas G. Venn of the state department of public works. However, as voters of Fayette county defeated a bond issue for a new court house, occupancy of the building will be deferred. The county has leased it for two years at an annual rental of $3,000.

The rental money will be devoted to preparing a relics room and marking the window thru which Lincoln vanished.

Attorney John A. Bingham of Vandalia in a memorial booklet presents another incident. "While history records the fact that Lincoln jumped out of this window," he writes, "the fact is he stepped outside of the window and stood on the window sill and defied the clerk and sergeant at arms to count him present. If Thomas B. Reed had been the presiding officer he would have applied the rules that gave him the name 'Car,' and counted Lincoln present on the proposition that he could not be absent for 'cussedness and present for business.'"

It is also a historic fact, Mr. Bingham records, that with Vandalia's legislative hall in 1892, Chicago was granted her first village charter.

ASK AID FOR MERCHANT MARINE LIBRARIES

Chicago, Ill.—The work of supplying books to vessels on the Great Lakes, undertaken by the American Library association this summer, will be financed in the future by contributions, said Carl H. Milan, secretary of the association, today. "We are doing this work with money in hand," he said, "and this will last only a few months. We are hoping to persuade the owners of vessels and any others who are interested to contribute to the American Library association, so that the work may be carried on indefinitely."

"Eventually, when the work is thoroughly organized, we expect the owners of vessels to assume a large part in the direct management of the merchant marine libraries."

ASKS OBSERVANCE OF SAFETY FIRST LAWS

Secretary of State Emmerson Issues Digest of Laws Governing Automobile Drivers—Calls Attention to Law's Provisions.

(By The Associated Press.) SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Moving for greater safety on the highways of Illinois, Secretary of State L. L. Emmerson has just issued a digest of the safety-first laws governing automobile drivers. He calls for their strict observance.

"These rules have been incorporated in the automobile and road laws of the State," writes the secretary of state. "Their observance is not only advisable for safety of the highway—it is enjoined by statute, and penalties are provided for violation. "Proper administration of the automobile laws is one of the first concerns of the Secretary of State. Under authority of the laws, he appoints annually several hundred men to act as voluntary automobile investigators. These men, who serve without pay, are leading citizens in their communities, interested in the safety of the highways."

Among the provisions of the law to which attention is called are the following:

No automobile must be driven over a railroad grade crossing at a speed exceeding 10 miles an hour, and at all grade crossings where "stop" signs are placed the car must be brought to a full stop before proceeding over the crossing.

The speed limit at which an automobile may be driven is 10 miles an hour in the business sections of cities; 15 miles in residence sections; 20 miles inside city limits but outside business or residence sections, and not to exceed 30 miles an hour on the public highway.

Every motor must be equipped with good brakes and a suitable signaling device. The license of a chauffeur may be revoked on the ground of drunkenness, and a drunken driver may be fined $200 and sentenced to jail for 60 days.

No person under 15 years of age is permitted to drive an automobile on the public highway unless accompanied by the owner of the vehicle or a licensed chauffeur.

A vehicle approaching from the right has the right-of-way. Keep to the right in passing a vehicle coming from the opposite direction.

The driver must signal his intention of turning or stopping by outstretched arm, or otherwise. An automobile must not be driven within ten feet of a street car loading or unloading passengers, except by the express direction of a traffic officer.

Copies of this pamphlet will be sent to the automobile drivers of the state. This measure, the secretary said, is taken at this time because it is the beginning of the season of greatest travel.

"WAS A BLESSING TO ME," SHE SAYS

Miss Littlefield Gained Twenty Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac has certainly been a blessing to me, for since taking it I am not only enjoying better health than I have in years but have gained twenty pounds in weight," said Miss Ida Littlefield, 327 East Second Street, Galesburg, Ill., recently.

"I had suffered so much and so long," she continued "I had almost given up hope of ever seeing another well day. I could hardly eat a thing without bloating all up with sour gas and having such spells of palpitation of the heart and cramping pains I could hardly stand it. I have often seen the time when in five minutes after eating, I was in so much misery that I would have to go and lie down, and I just dreaded to eat on account of the suffering it caused me. My kidneys were also out of order, and my back pained me fearfully and I was often confined to my bed for two or three weeks at a time. Many a night I have stayed awake half night with my back hurting me as I couldn't sleep, and the next day I would be almost wild with the headache."

"No one will ever know how badly I really suffered, for words can't describe it, but thanks to Tanlac all my troubles have disappeared. I just feel as well and as much like work as I did thirty years ago. I am eating three hearty meals a day and enjoy them all and never feel a sign of indigestion. Why, I am just like an entirely different person, for I haven't an ache or pain of any kind. I feel so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me I want to tell everybody about it, as it may be the cause of some one being benefited as I was."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve and by the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

"Proper administration of the automobile laws is one of the first concerns of the Secretary of State. Under authority of the laws, he appoints annually several hundred men to act as voluntary automobile investigators. These men, who serve without pay, are leading citizens in their communities, interested in the safety of the highways."

Among the provisions of the law to which attention is called are the following:

No automobile must be driven over a railroad grade crossing at a speed exceeding 10 miles an hour, and at all grade crossings where "stop" signs are placed the car must be brought to a full stop before proceeding over the crossing.

The speed limit at which an automobile may be driven is 10 miles an hour in the business sections of cities; 15 miles in residence sections; 20 miles inside city limits but outside business or residence sections, and not to exceed 30 miles an hour on the public highway.

Every motor must be equipped with good brakes and a suitable signalling device. The license of a chauffeur may be revoked on the ground of drunkenness, and a drunken driver may be fined $200 and sentenced to jail for 60 days.

No person under 15 years of age is permitted to drive an automobile on the public highway unless accompanied by the owner of the vehicle or a licensed chauffeur.

A vehicle approaching from the right has the right of way. Keep to the right in passing a vehicle coming from the opposite direction.

The driver must signal his intention of turning or stopping by outstretched arm, or otherwise. An automobile must not be driven within ten feet of a street car loading or unloading passengers, except by the express direction of a traffic officer.

Copies of this pamphlet will be sent to the automobile drivers of the state. This measure, the secretary said, is taken at this time because it is the beginning of the season of greatest travel.

Worcester, Mass.—Dean Jas. P. Porter of Clark College is

"WAS A BLESSING TO ME," SHE SAYS

Miss Littlefield Gained Twenty Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac has certainly been a blessing to me, for since taking it I am not only enjoying better health than I have in years but have gained twenty pounds in weight," said Miss Ida Littlefield, 327 East Second Street, Galesburg, Ill., recently.

"I had suffered so much and so long," she continued, "I had almost given up hope of ever seeing another well day. I could hardly eat a thing without bloating all up with sour gas and having such spells of palpitation of the heart and cramping pains I could hardly stand it. I have often seen the time when in five minutes after eating, I was in so much misery that I would have to go and lie down, and I just dreaded to eat on account of the suffering it caused me. My kidneys were also out of order, and my back pained me fearfully and I was often confined to my bed for two or three weeks at a time. Many a night I have stayed awake half night with my back hurting me as I couldn't sleep, and the next day I would be almost wild with the headache."

"No one will ever know how badly I really suffered, for words can't describe it, but thanks to Tanlac all my troubles have disappeared. I just feel as well and as much like work as I did thirty years ago. I am eating three hearty meals a day and enjoy them all and never feel a sign of indigestion. Why, I am just like an entirely different person, for I haven't an ache or pain of any kind. I feel so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me I want to tell everybody about it, as it may be the cause of some one being benefitted as I was."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve and by the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

SAFETY FOR SHIPS
IN CROWDED HARBORS
Principle of "Follow the Green Line" Used by New York Subway Management, Adapted to Insure Safety to Ships Around Crowded Harbors.

New York.—The principle of "follow the green line" used successfully by the management of New York's subway system in handling crowds at congested transfer points has been adapted in a measure to insure safety to ships at sea around crowded harbors. Instead of a visible "green line," however, a device has been perfected whereby vessels seeking their way into harbor in thick weather can follow with safety a submerged and energized wire. In the outer reaches of New York harbor where deep water meets shoals, there begins a marine passage way known as Ambrose channel. This channel leads up through the narrows into the inner harbor and to the docks and in this channel the guiding cable has been laid. Ships properly equipped to take advantage of its guiding powers can follow it thru any kind of weather with the same degree of assurance as can the passenger who seeks to make his way from Grand Central terminal to Times Square. The device consists of a cable 16 miles long laid in the center of the channel. It is energized with an alternating current from the shore. Ships to take advantage of it must be equipped with audiotones or listening devices attached to the hull. Approaching the channel the sound waves emitted by the cable can be heard for some distance, and the increasing or decreasing strength of the sound enables the ship to be steered until it is right over the source. It is then a simple matter to follow its course through the dredged channel despite storm or fog which would make the marking buoys invisible or would tend to confuse the warning notes of automatic bell and whistle markers. This cable is but an additional protection for shipping entering American ports. It supplements the radio compass installed and operated by the Naval Communications service now in successful use all along the Atlantic coast. By the compass, ships can ascertain their exact position in any kind of weather. Another protection recently tried out by the Navy Department is a machine for determining depth of water and proximity of other ships through the readings of sounds from the propellers reflected back from the bottom or nearby bodies.

Paris, France. — The LaFayette wireless station near Bordeaux, designed and erected by American forces during the war has been turned over to the French government. The armistice found the station half completed and so the completion has been slow as the urgent need of it no longer existed. It is to be used as part of the comprehensive system planned by the French service for reaching all French colonial points by wireless. Eight towers of structural steel each within a very few feet of the Woolworth building in height are grouped in two rows of four to support antennae that cover an aerial surface about a mile long and a fourth of a mile wide. Each tower weighs 550 tons as compared with a weight of 2,700 tons for the Eiffel tower in Paris which is only a fourth higher than the LaFayette structures. SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Child labor in Illinois, which reached its height during the war when a liberal interpretation of the child labor law was permitted for the sake of production, has not receded as it should, according to Barney Cohen, director of the state department of labor. SAFETY FOR SHIPS
Principle of "Follow the Green Line" Used by New York Subway Management, Adapted to Insure Safety to Ships Around Crowded Harbors.

New York.—The principle of "follow the green line" used successfully by the management of New York's subway system in handling crowds at congested transfer points has been adapted in a measure to insure safety to ships at sea around crowded harbors. Instead of a visible "green line," however, a device has been perfected whereby vessels seeking their way into harbor in thick weather can follow with safety a submerged and energized wire.
In the outer reaches of New York harbor where deep water meets shoals, there begins a marine passage way known as Ambrose channel. This channel leads up through the narrows into the inner harbor and to the docks and in this channel the guiding cable has been laid. Ships properly equipped to take advantage of its guiding powers can follow it thru any kind of weather with the same degree of assurance as can the passenger who seeks to make his way from Grand Central terminal to Times Square.
The device consists of a cable
16 miles long laid in the center of the channel. It is energized with an alternating current from the shore. Ships to take advantage of it must be equipped with audiophones or listening devices attached to the hull. Approaching the channel the sound waves emitted by the cable can be heard for some distance, and the increasing or decreasing strength of the sound enables the ship to be steered until it is right over the source. It is then a simple matter to follow its course through the dredged channel despite storm or fog which would make the marking buoys invisible or would tend to confuse the warning notes of automatic bell and whistle markers.
This cable is but an additional protection for shipping entering American ports. It supplements the radio compass installed and operated by the Naval Communications service now in successful use all along the Atlantic coast.
By the compass, ships can ascertain their exact position in any kind of weather. Another protection recently tried out by the Navy Department is a machine for determining depth of water and proximity of other ships through the readings of sounds from the propellers reflected back from the bottom or nearby bodies.
